The *D*ifference

Another day is over and these students seem ready to go home.

Is Us!

Many changes have occurred since last year. One of these changes is a switch in student position. Seniors were finally at the top and the juniors, after two years at the top, were at the bottom again.

As the year went on, students and

Mr. Callum, our new principal, waits patiently to nab an unexpected victim who has no hall pass.

faculty began to fall into place and a new routine was set where things ran smoothly. Most juniors and seniors began to accept each other and combined their school work with shared fun.

During the first nine weeks, students watched their new principal with worried looks, afraid that the year was going to be a disaster. But later things settled down and everyone realized it might not be so bad after all.

The seniors were split in their feelings, though. Some wished the year would speed by; others hoped it would be the slowest year of their lives. Juniors on the other hand took life one day at a time and waited for their year as seniors.

What changes would next year hold? There was no way of knowing. But all of us held comfort in the thought that no matter how they changed the school, the people would always remain the same. Because Millers are unique and the difference is us.

What an assembly! This is how homecoming looks when we all stand behind our team.

Vive Le Difference!

What a difference a year can make. This year introduced a new principal and a whole flood of new policies. Pink tardy slips became a part of our daily life and if we were absent, we had to do all of our make-up work to restore our grade.

If we happened to park in a teacher's parking place, we could count on waiting until the end of the day before we could move, because the teachers parked behind us.

But these changes were not all bad, they brought a new deserved respect between the students and faculty. We were expected to act mature and were given every opportunity to do so.

Viva le difference means "up with the difference," because these changes caused us to grow a little more and made us better than before.

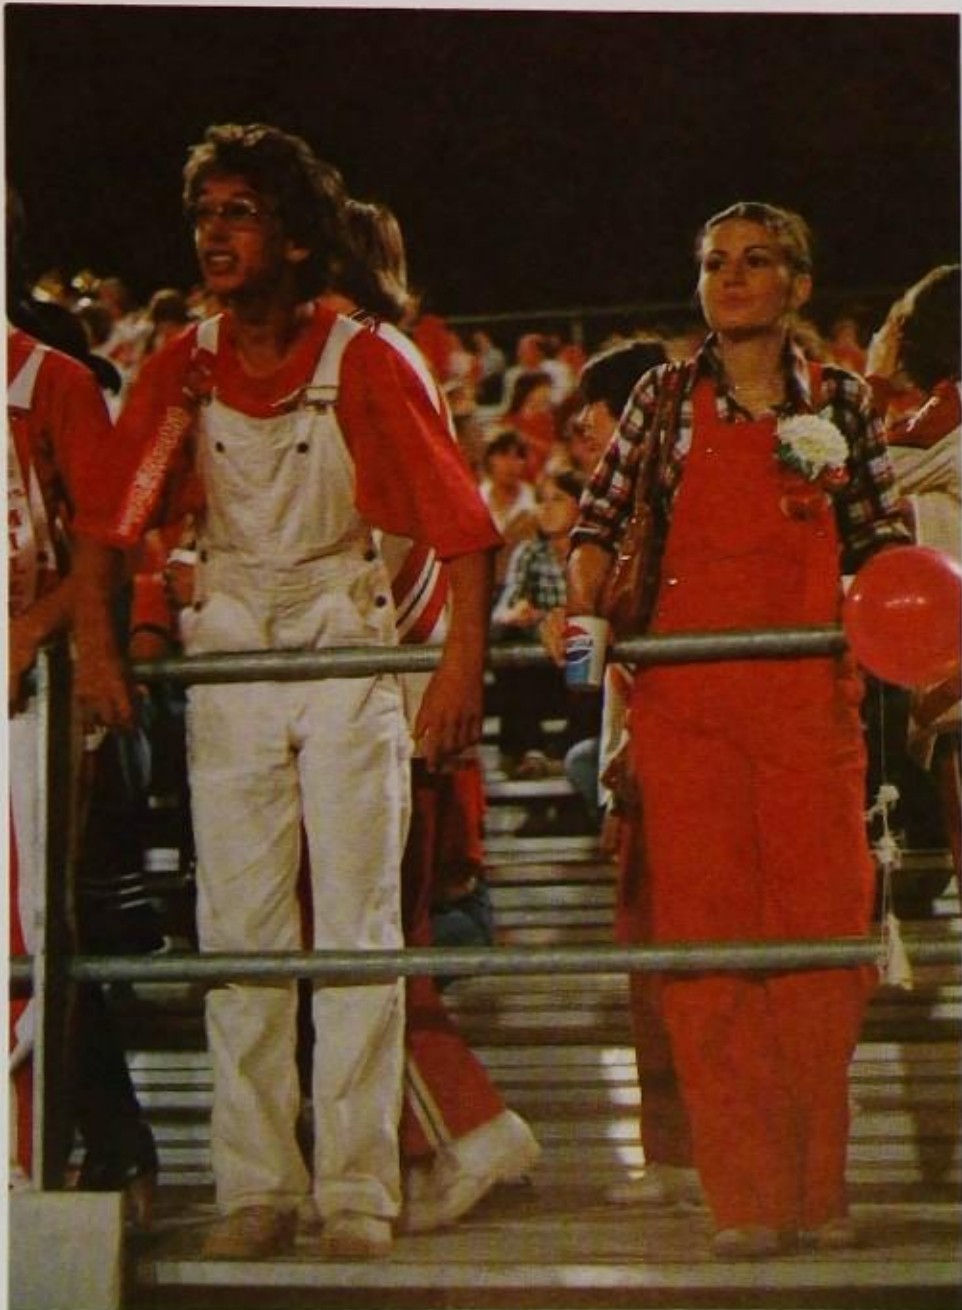

This was a new addition to the football practice field. It was put up in August and taken down in October. Returning students thought the rig was great and the band even practiced "Oklahoma Crude" as they marched by it in early morning practice.

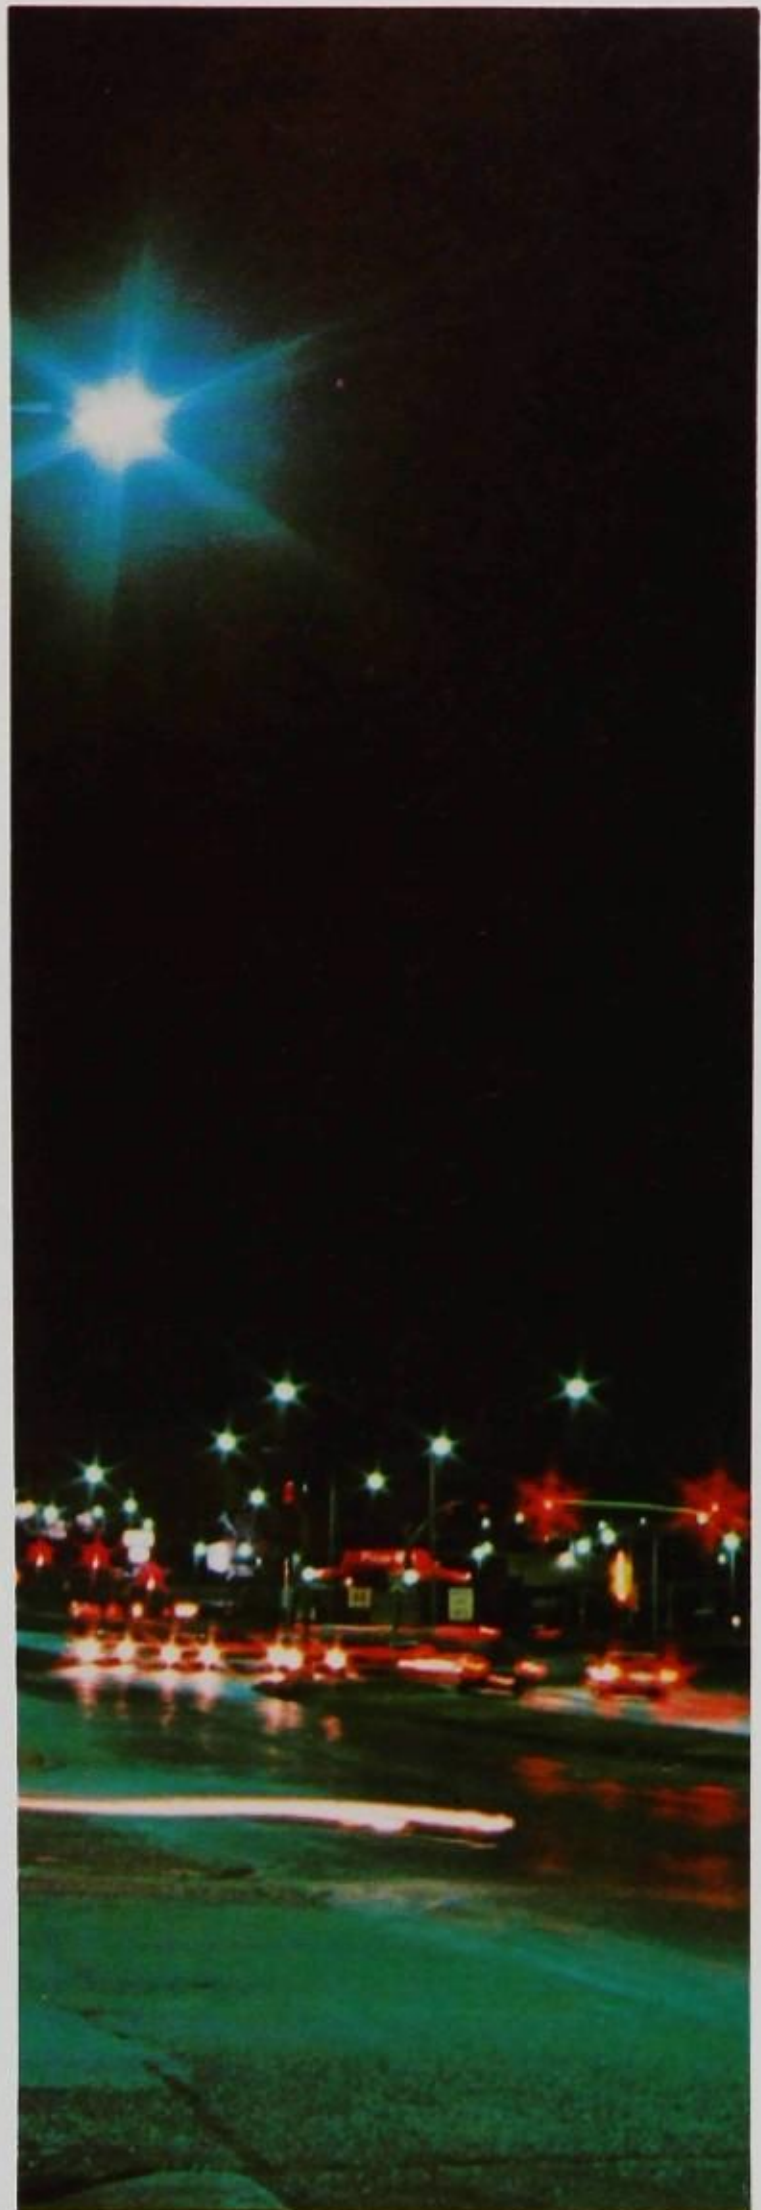

Gaye Lynn Richey confronts Mr. Lobough about her tardy difficulty and her detention slips.

George Eifler and Robin Riddle look disappointed at the call made by a referee. This was the homecoming game against Shawnee. During halftime the queen was crowned and the mighty seniors beat the juniors in the third annual float competition.

Cruising Main isn't different but it is influenced by the price of gas.

Oops! Someone parked in a teacher's place.

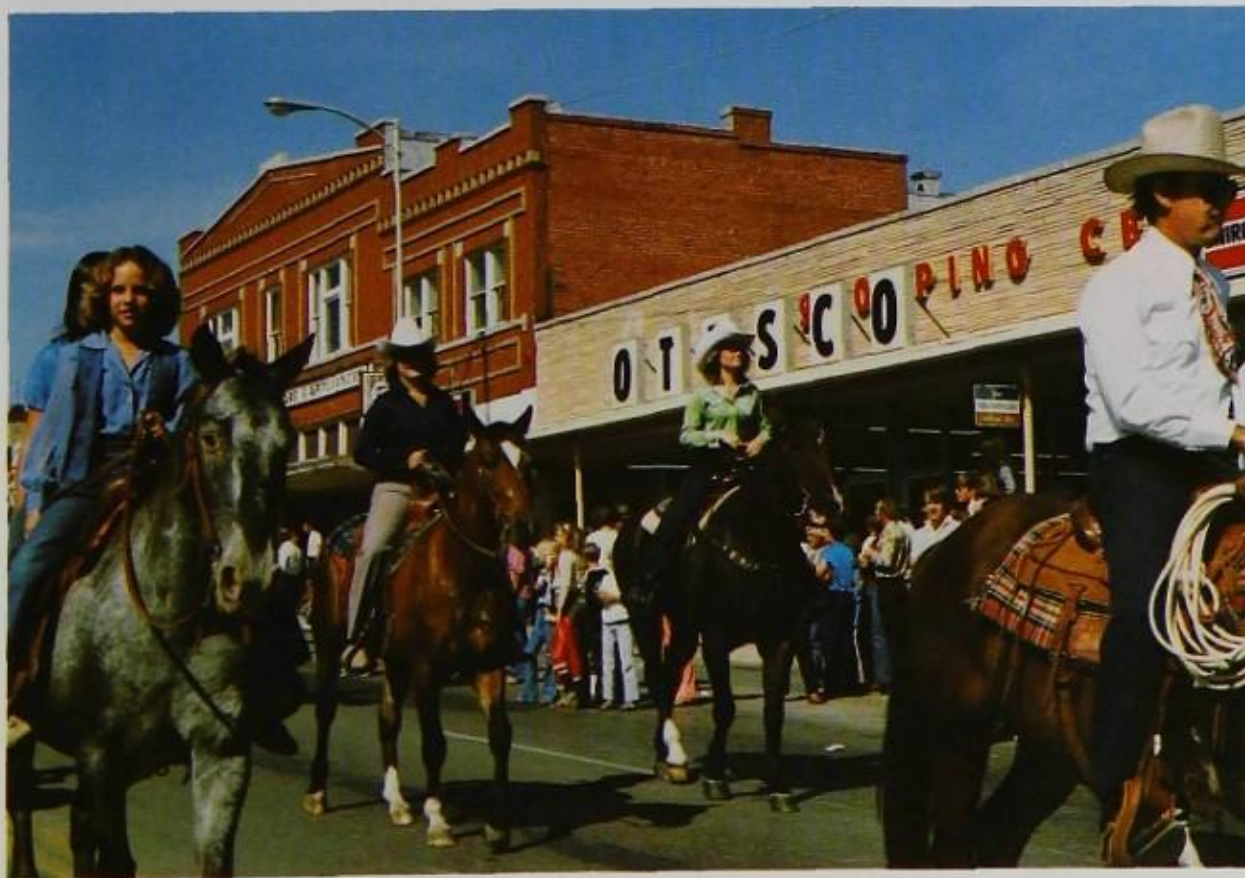

This is a normal scene on a Friday night or Saturday night in a student's life.

STUDENT LIFE

Debbie Stevens, Terri Popp and Libby Banks won 1st place in FHA's First Annual Car Decorating Contest.

From going to school during the day, to going to work after school, to filling up our spare time, we led three separate lives.

We all knew what the first one consisted of. But, the other two were what student life was all about.

Most of us had after-school jobs that took up most of our week nights, and sometimes our weekends. We learned responsibility and gained experience through our jobs.

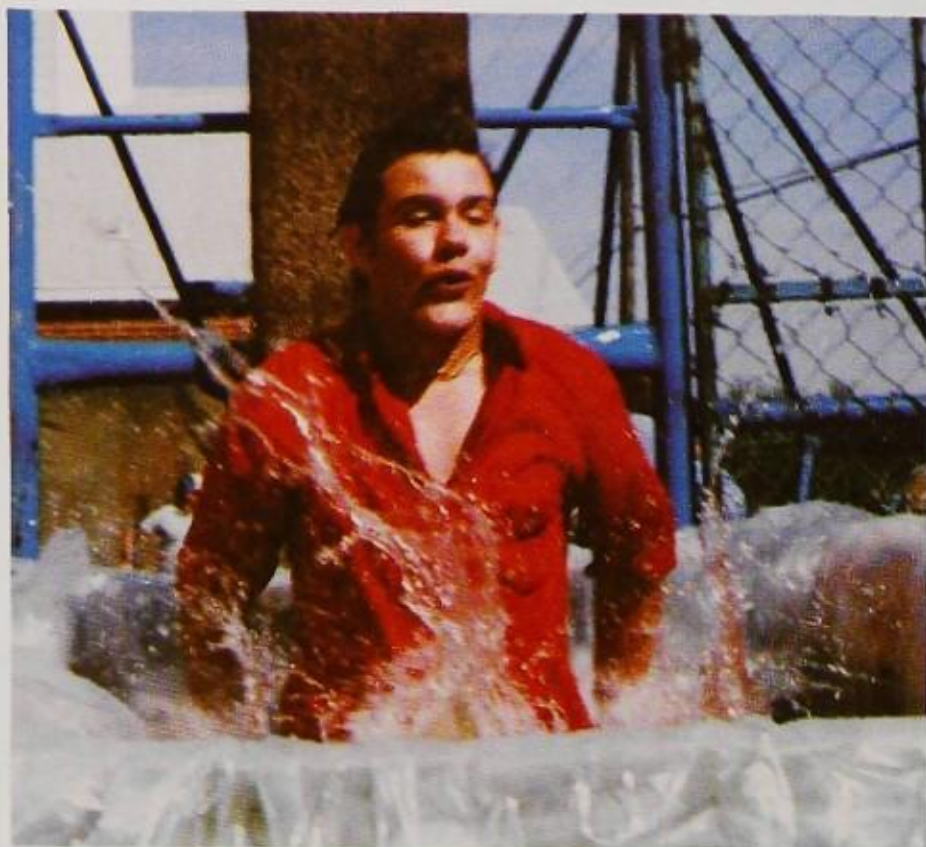

Our spare time was usually spent cruising, going to games, going on dates and watching Saturday Night Live.

We changed a lot during that year and for some of us, that would be our last year together.

We strengthened bonds of friendship through fun times as well as hard times and though we were all different, we all found a bond of sameness, a bond that would last for years to come.

What Are Ya Doin' This Weekend?

What do kids do when they're not in school? Most kids have after school jobs, so we are busy working on weekdays. But, what about the weekends?

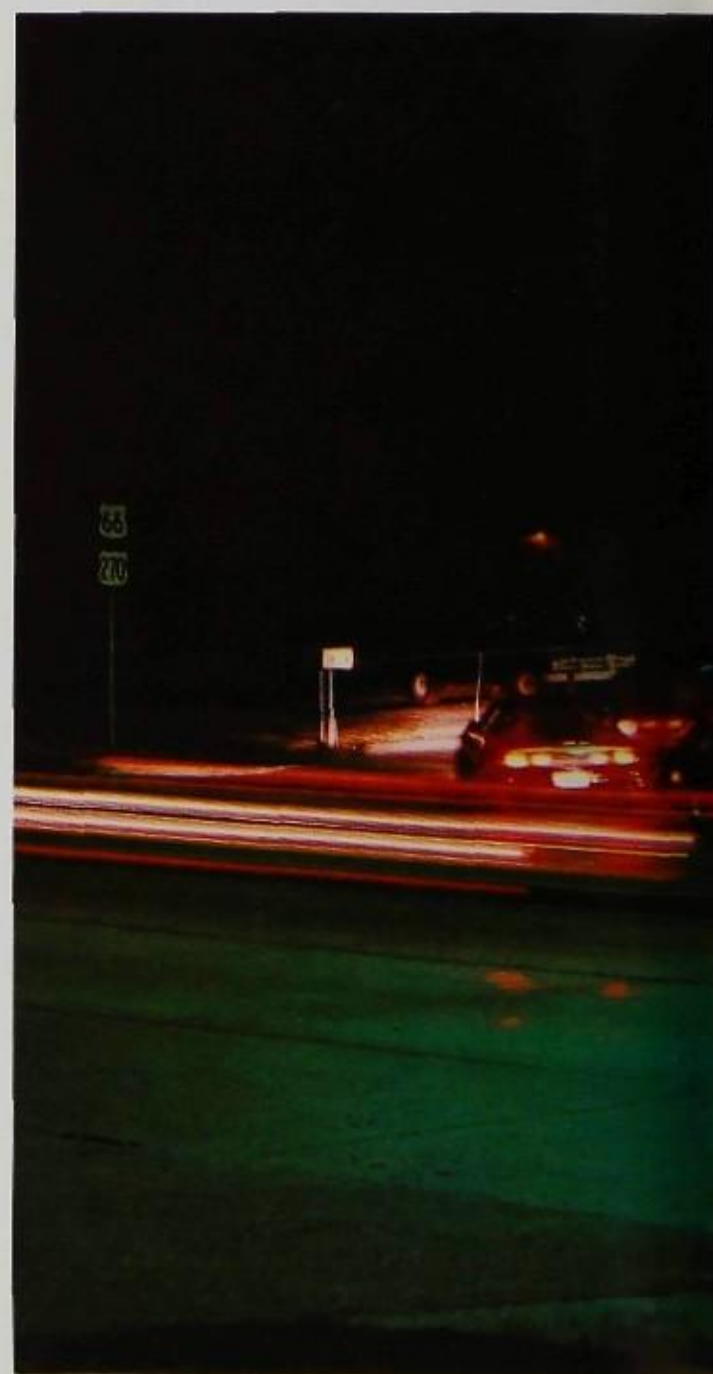

When Friday rolls around, almost everyone can be found cruising up and down Main Street. Others are still working, and a few stay home.

Saturday afternoon might find us cleaning the house, mowing the lawn or taking out the trash, but not too likely-if we can help it! We would rather be washing and waxing our cars, shopping or just goofing off.

Saturday night is basically the same as Friday except for one difference. A lot of us are in front of a TV set at 10:30 to watch a show that is rapidly becoming #1 with America-Saturday night Live. Some only watch it to see their favorite "actor", Mr. Bill, but others are devoted fans to the whole cast.

One more day of freedom left, what do we do? On Sundays, most of us get up and go to church and in the afternoon, we rest up from the long (but not long enough) weekend. On Sunday night it's time to start thinking about school again-doing homework, going to bed early-yippeee!

So there it is, the night life of Yukon. We may not be totally awake first hour Monday morning, but what a weekend we had.

Tony Merrill and Jennifer Turner mill around and see the sights at the Czech Festival. They are watching to see who will be the next victim of the dunk tank.

Sonic is one of the main pitstops for the cruisers.

Kenny Wagner demonstrates the basics of lawn raking.

Jobs Are Us

Jayme Brumbaugh's job includes cutting fabric for customers at TG&Y.

Working until late hours of the night, falling two days behind in our homework, sacrificing football games, club activities, and friends . . . What possessed us to give up our life of leisure? A job, that's what!!!

An occupation carries a lot of weight in our lives, and most of us began filling out job applications the day we turned sixteen.

Lezlie Ayers enjoys serving hungry customers at McDonald's.

Besides the obvious reason of doing wonders for one's bank account, there are many reasons why YHS students work. One student commented, "I work because I like to buy clothes and clothes take money." another said "I work for money to buy gas." while still another said "It' gives me something to do."

One of the many package boys at Snyder's Kevin McConnell carries packages out through rain, snow, sleet, and cold.

Shannon Howard makes all of those fattening goodies at Braum's which we enjoy all year round.

Shiela Estus spends her time working in the meat department at Snyder's preparing delicious cuts of meat.

Brenda Parker proves that there is more to TG&Y than just helping customers.

Homecoming Kicks Off Fall Excitement

Football homecoming entailed many exciting events. Before the coronation, the band and drill team performed a colorful routine. Also at this time, the class floats paraded around the field for judging. During the coronation the flag team saluted the queens as they passed through to the back drop. The football homecoming queen was Jerri Casto.

But, this was just the final product of weeks of hard work. The band and drill team practiced long and hard while the Seniors and Juniors slaved over their floats.

It was not all work and no play. The Seniors expressed their love for the Juniors with a raid of bisquits and fire extinguishers and the Juniors retaliated likewise. Each side worked hard to keep their working place a secret. But secrets were leaked and both sides spent most of their time "spying" on the other. Some people (who will remain nameless) even got violent and resorted to destructive measures. But, all ended well as the Seniors showed the Juniors how to "Roast the Wolves" by winning the first annual float competition.

This added event characterized just another example of what a difference a year can make.

The candidates: Jerri Casto, Kathy Hays, and Andie French waited for the news.

During the halftime of the Yukon-Shawnee football game, Jerri Casto was crowned homecoming queen. She was escorted by Garth Brooks.

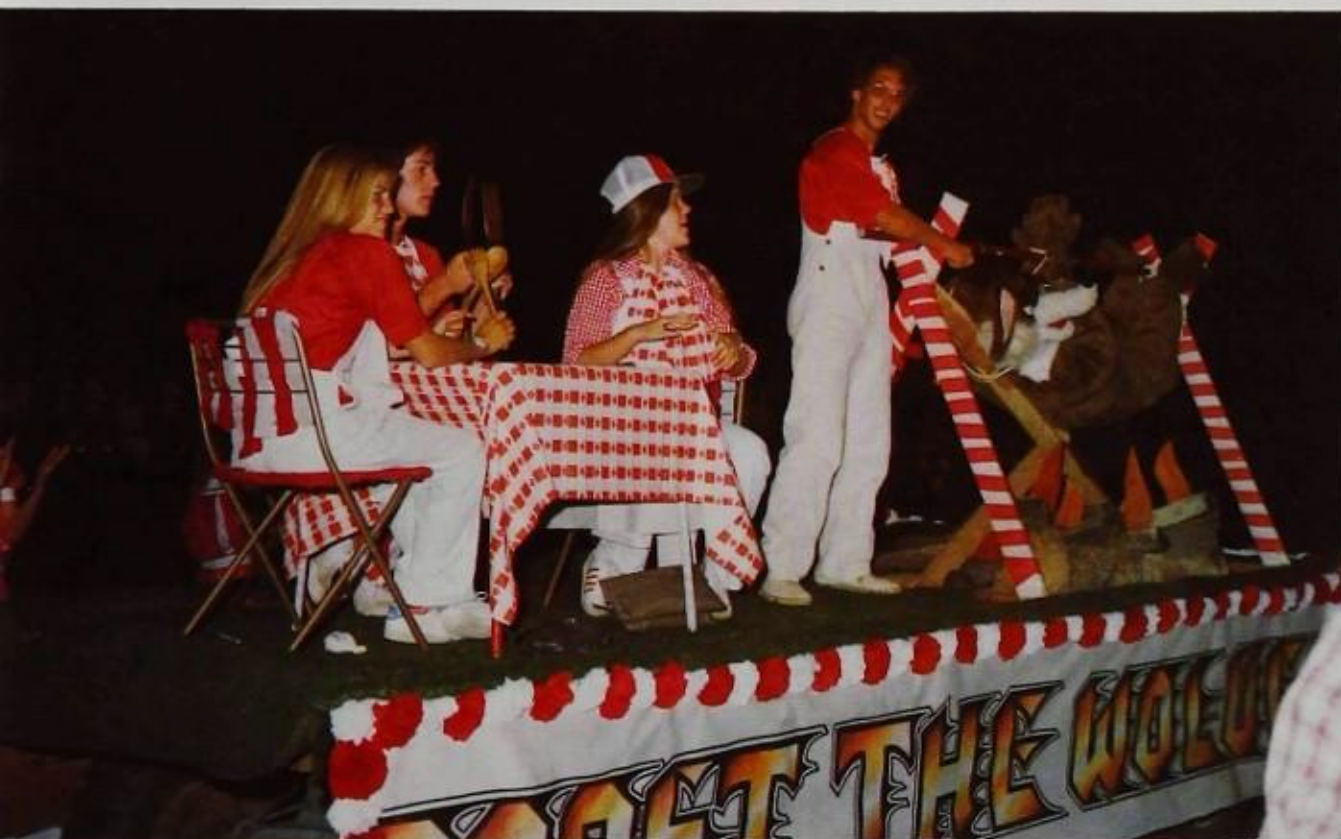

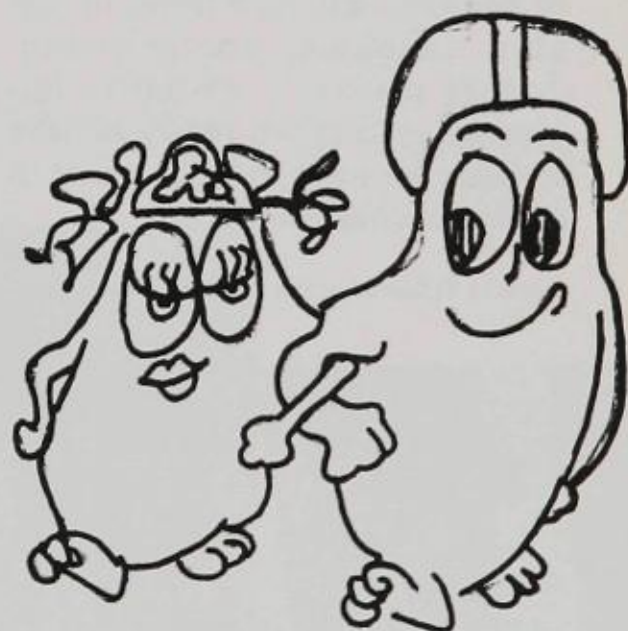

Waiting to "Trap the Wolves" were Juniors; Jamie Van Horn, Kim Whited and Lesa Jordan. They were eager to show their Junior spirit.

Our fine drill team showed their talents at the homecoming pep assembly.

Ready to "Roast the Wolves" were Seniors; Therese Burkhardt, Doug Perryman, Bridget Donnelly, and George Eifler. (By the way, George got the drumstick.)

What A Difference He's Made In Our Lives.

"This is the beginning of a new day. God has given me this day to use as I will. I can waste it . . . or use it for good, but what I do today is important, because I am exchanging a day of my life for it! When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in its place something that I have traded for it. I want it to be gain, and not loss; good, and not evil; success and not failure; in order that I shall not regret the price that I have paid for it."

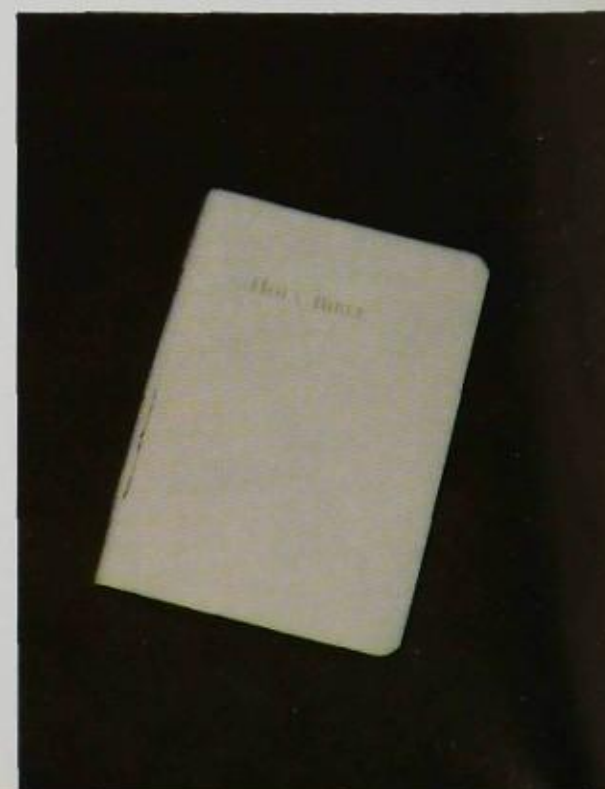

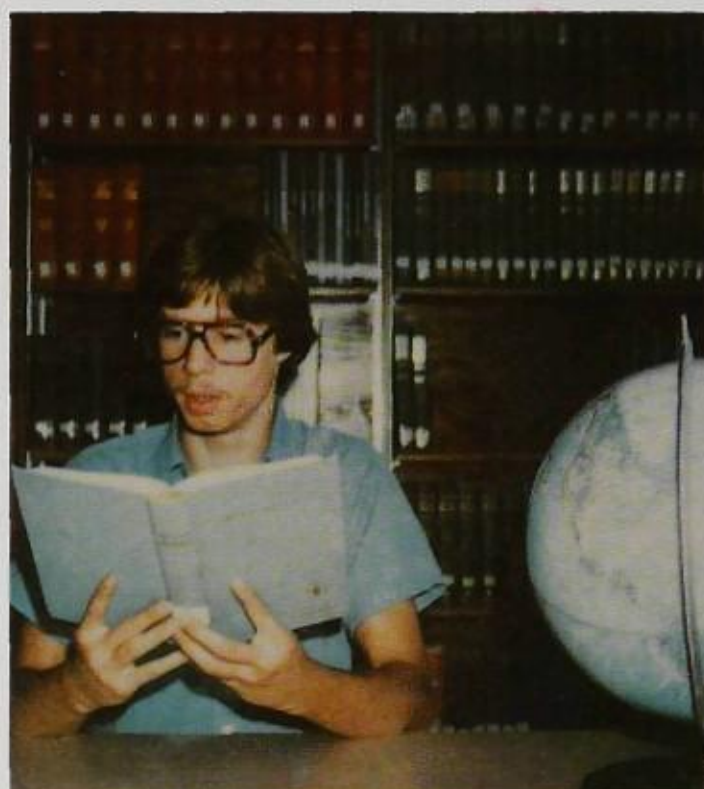

Church is a time to be alone, to pour out anguish to God and feel His healing comfort in the silence of the church. Prayer is always there for all of us in times of need as well as in times of joy. Our religious denomination doesn't matter . . . what is important is that we really believe in God, for he is the still point in our ever changing lives.

Brenda Nevil demonstrates many students' favorite pasttime, talking on the phone. Many students spend all of their free time on this handy instrument.

"10-4, this is Shutterbug here," Bill Hamm says to his C.B. buddies.

Ms. Schlachtenhaufen as portrayed in Mike Greason and Pam Murry's minds is another popular form of communication.

"Have You Heard?"

"Do you know what Jane said?" "Was that English test hard?" "Are you going to the game tonight?" These are just a few things that are heard in the halls between classes. Students anxiously look for their friends to tell them the latest gossip. Then, after school they spend hours on the telephone talking about all the news of the day. It would be hard to imagine a day without talking on the phone.

C.B. radios are a very popular form of communication too. "Breaker one-nine" can be heard throughout Yukon. Many students enjoy using the completely different language of C.B. lingo.

One of the favorite (and most dangerous) ways of communicating, is passing notes. Some students spend more time on notes than assignments. Many times this habit is quickly broken when a teacher reads the note aloud in class. It's amazing how much one can learn about a student just by reading his note.

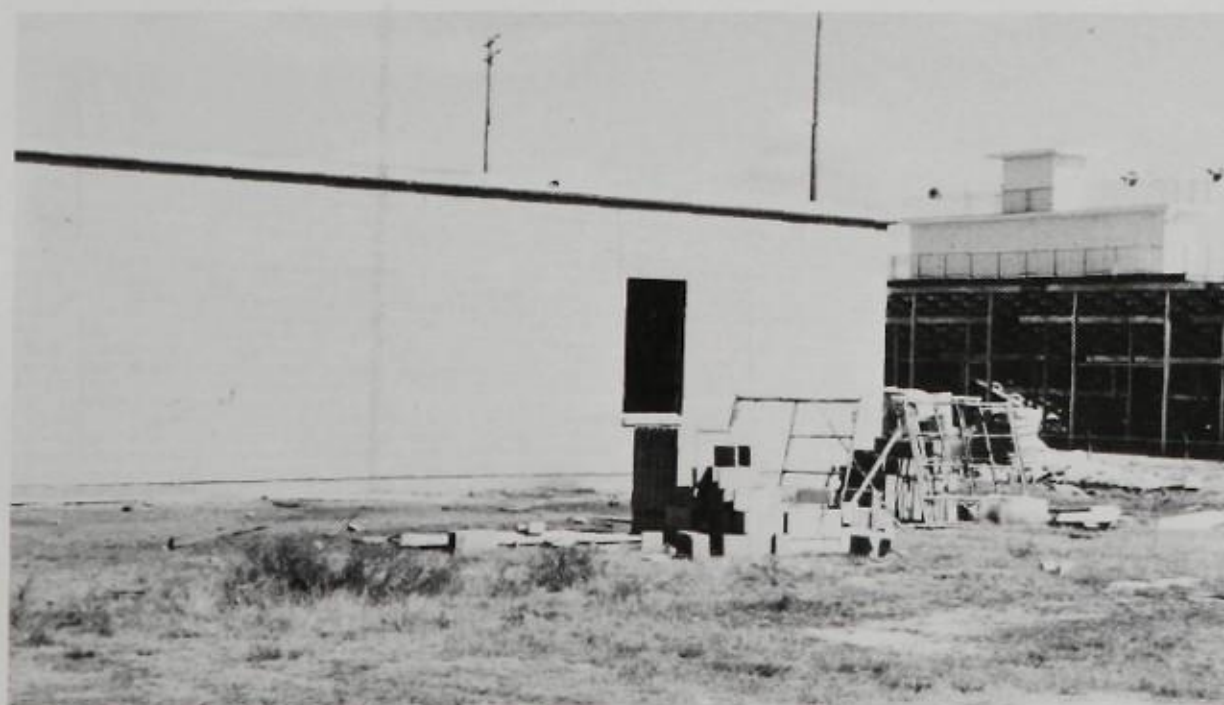

Chisholm West, Yukon's newest shopping center, has a variety of stores to shop in for the energy-conscious public.

"Road Closed" was a familiar sign on this corner for many months. Road crews were hired to fix all four corners of the over-traveled intersection.

Since the fieldhouse isn't finished, where will our boys dress??

NEW INNOVATIONS

There are many things that happen around the world today and believe it or not, things change at Yukon also.

After much needed work, the intersection of Vandament and Cornwell is finally completed. (Well-almost) No more 12 foot chug holes to watch out for, no more road closing or detours.

Further up the road, the new shopping center, Chisolm West, has something for everyone. Many stores were added to the Yukon area which saves on the gas if residents shop locally.

Things also change at Yukon High School. No more splinters!! Yukon has a great new stadium. It seats about 4,000 people comfortably.

Another addition is the fieldhouse which was greatly needed. This locker room contains a coaches office, training room and equipment room.

To the surprise of many students, something passed (No, not a student). The bond issue to get YHS a new auditorium passed on the first try 3 to 1. This will provide Yukon with its very own auditorium to be used for school as well as for community events.

BOUND FOR PRO FOOTBALL?? DECA members challenge the faculty to a friendly Sunday afternoon football game.

CLUBS & ACADEMICS

The Pride of Yukon boasts they are #1 after winning the Most Impressive Award.

With calculator in hand, these trig students are hard at work.

With the importance of academics being stressed in school, clubs are also very important to the students at YHS. Clubs provide time to share with friends and other students who have the same interests.

Academics is the serious side of school; although it can be fun ... It helps to provide us with knowledge and train us for future years. Learning is important in school, because after all — that is really why we are here.

The People Behind The Action At YHS

One of the major concerns of Student Council was giving the students an active voice in school functions. They wanted the students to get involved and come to their meetings.

The Student Council has done many things. Last summer they were already hard at work. Jenny Hill, Scott Cloud and Gaye Lynn Richey attended a leadership training center at Cheley, Colorado, and four other representatives attended SHSC in Biloxi, Mississippi.

They sold donuts to raise money to help the school and they were responsible for changing the marquee every week.

They also sponsored the first annual Christmas dance and a Student Directory assembly where students decided what would happen.

Student ID's were introduced this year. These help students out in many ways, such as: cashing checks, getting into games at student prices and going to school functions.

Good job Student Council!!!

Student Council worked on many projects to help raise money for the school. Here

They Do It With Honors!

Top scholars and leaders achieved one of Yukon's highest honors by being inducted into the National Honor Society. The local NHS Chapter, 95 members strong, made themselves known to faculty and students by sponsoring National Education Week. During the week's festivities they prepared refreshments for the teachers, took over classes, collected items from local merchants for "goodie bags" for students and teachers alike. Among other activities NHS sponsored a Valentine Express where they sold and delivered economy, fancy, and singing valentines through the halls of the high school. They also maintained a tutoring service for grade school and high school students.

To be considered for membership one must be a junior or senior displaying qualities in leadership, character and services. As evidenced by their past activities it appears to be a challenging and worthwhile organization.

Y-Club is a letter club for girls who have lettered in any sport. The club enjoyed activities such as a skating party at the "U", selecting a Y-club Beau at the end of the year and a pizza party at Shakey's.

The club also did money raising projects for their activities such as selling fruit in the winter time.

Entering the club is a different story. After lettering in a sport the girls must go through an initiation. Some of the fun includes; wearing to school one high heeled shoe with one tennis shoe, long johns, a shower cap, and a cardboard "Y" around their necks which they must fill with signatures.

Miller Spirit Never Dies!

The main purpose of the Spirit Club was to promote school spirit. Consisting of 178 members, the Spirit Club can be found at nearly every athletic function, backing the Millers to a victory. The club's support is evident in the decorating of the halls and the gym with posters, signs and crepe paper. The planning of the football, basketball and wrestling homecomings were big events. The Spirit Club also sponsored approximately 20 pep assemblies, a bonfire during football season and a mini-loat contest during basketball homecoming. Although this was only the second year that the Spirit Club has been in existence, the club has accomplished much toward raising spirit and increasing overall school support.

Robin Riddle decided to take a nap after cleaning up the pep assembly.

Juniors yelled their loudest during class competition but seldom came out victorious.

Gerunds Jingles And Jibberish

What's the first thing you think of when someone mentions language arts? Verbs, maybe, or term papers and Macbeth? Well that's partly right, but language arts is also creative writing, foreign languages, and sometimes fun.

Almost any hour juniors and seniors could be seen in the library doing research for their term papers or walking down the halls muttering the Canterbury Tales in the Middle English. English was that one class unavoidable even as a senior.

But it wasn't all work, there was some fun enjoyed as a club. Among the differences this year was a new foreign language club. This club consists of both French and Spanish students.

The foreign language club enjoyed such things as Christmas dinner at Magic Pan and a spring fling at El Chico. Also different was the creative writing classes and club, as it was only offered one hour. The creative writing club wrote poems, jingles and advertisements as well as put out the anthology. Even English was changed some this year. Honors English classes were offered and along with a bit of extra work, students enjoyed field trips to productions of literary works. The juniors went to see "Scrooge" and the seniors saw "Romeo and Juliet".

All of these forms of language arts helped to prepare us for the future; whether a junior coming back for one more year or a senior about to embark on a whole new series of language arts class.

Prove Your Theorem

Classes ranging from Algebra and Geometry to Trigonometry and Math Analysis were offered to the mathematically minded person.

The students entered the year with a handful of erasers and an objective mind. But, by the end of the year they were in a state of confusion, still trying to solve that One problem.

Scalpel And The Test Tube

What would a high school be without the wonderful classes of science; physics, chemistry and Biology I, II?

Each day is an adventure down B-hall, where students never quite know what to expect. The first door you come to is the physics & chemistry room. Here you find Mr. Kenaga and his oddity of chemicals and machinery. In his class passing a test is a major accomplishment.

One door down is the biology room, where any day of the week you can smell the tantalizing aroma of chloroform. While in the room you can experience a Mrs. Taylor anatomy exploration; skinning, proding and probing.

So next time you walk down B-hall, look in and see what interesting and exciting things go on in the wonderful world of science.

We Have Fun Farming

Boasting its first girl president, the Yukon Chapter was engaged in many activities which involved the community.

In June, the six new officers collected memberships from interested community citizens & farmers and started an Alumni Chapter. By doing so, five representatives were sent to the FFA Alumni Camp at Lake Texoma.

In September, President Carter issued "The President's Challenge" to all FFA Presidents, across the nation. Yukon's chapter accepted the challenge and a program of energy conservation began.

Besides feeding and caring of animals, the FFA was involved in a "Food for America" program, a Christmas weiner roast, and various leadership conferences.

Some of the Yukon FFA members competed at an interstate speech contest in Miami during April.

Over spring break many FFA'ers competed in local and county competition in El Reno.

Knock On Wood

The object of woodworking is to skillfully design wooden projects which others as well as yourself may be proud of. Many of these projects, if well enough designed may be entered into local contests to be displayed and judged.

One of the specific contests that the woodworking students entered was the annual spring contest in Ada. A variety of projects were entered, among some of them were skis, china cabinets, gun cases, tables and other pieces of art.

Chuck Kane works on one of his projects, using an electric saw. Protective glasses have Drafting and Art classes give students the chance to learn valuable techniques while making something profitable for themselves. Their abilities improve as the classes continue. Art classes range from 3-D art to sculpting and pottery. Drafting is given at levels I and II.

The students are given many chances throughout the year to display their talents at various contests. They are also offered a wide range of employment possibilities because of their artistic skills. Many of these students go on to become carpenters, architects and commercial artists.

DECA Is More Than Just A Job

DECA, (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is an organization that teaches marketing, merchandising and responsibility. All members must be in Distributive Education which requires them to have a job.

The club has had several projects, which include the adoption of a muscular dystrophy child and a grandma who has no close living relatives. Both were invited to all of the chapter activities.

DECA attended several conferences held in different places. At the conferences, members competed in various written and competitive events. They competed against members from across the state and nation.

The organization taught its members to be leaders and followers. DECA gave them an opportunity for state and national recognition.

As part of his DECA learning experience, Jeff Carmichael works at C & H Auto.

Age Of The Working Woman

Home Economics Related Occupations (HERO) is not just a class but also a club. There are two classes consisting of first and second year HERO members.

The club consists only of girls, but there is no reason why guys cannot join. Perhaps in a few years this can change.

HERO was active in such things as monthly breakfast meetings, arts and crafts, and retail displays.

They took time off from school and their jobs to take a small trip to Dallas. While there they observed expensive displays at Neiman Marcus and North Park Mall.

Christi Lassiter and Valda Sudduth show their talents when the classes were required to do arts and crafts.

They're Cooking Up A Storm

Home Ec. isn't just for cooking anymore. The students who were active in Home Ec. did such things as: cooking, hooking rugs and learning about families.

But, of course, we couldn't stay to far from the old-traditions. The junior classes and the Independent Living classes still cooked but their learning was centered around preparing them for their futures. For instance, the seniors experienced what it is like to get married and all the expenses that accompany this (many of them discovered that if they got married now they would probaly starve).

The goal of the Home Economics teachers was to prepare us for our future. We learned about good nutrition, taking care of our house, the juniors helped preschool and the seniors learned about taking care of their future families. Perhaps we didn't learn all there was to know but the Home Economics classes have certainly helped in preparing us.

Looking To The Future

The Future Homemakers of America was a busy organization this year. This club consisted mainly of guys and girls who were enrolled in a Home Economics or Independent Living class. Those who previously had been active in either of these classes joined in too.

A big project in FHA was helping with the March of Dimes. Among these projects were a blood drive, which had a good turn out, and baking bread for the March of Dimes parade of homes in Nichols Hills at Christmas time.

The monthly chapter meetings consisted of such speakers as Dr. Banowsky, President of OU, a hypnotist, and Dr. Boyd, an OU professor. The chapter meetings for the first time were held after school.

The officers enjoyed getting together in the summer for water skiing and a Six Flags trip. Also, they went Christmas caroling and delivered gifts to the chapter parents.

"Happines is FHA", Scott Layton looked pretty happy as he dived into a thick juicy slice of watermelon.

A big project in FHA was the blood drive. Renea Daugherty gladly helped out. Many others also participated. The drive was a good success.

Imagine getting up at 5:00 a.m. and meeting at the school at 6:00 to spend the day competing with students from all over the state. That's what the speech and debate students went through every time they went to speech contest. Categories at contest included prose, poetry, humorous and dramatic duet, original oratory, dramatic and humorous interp, extemporaneous speaking, and debate. They usually lasted two days with debate prelims on Friday evening, then on Saturday there were debate finals along with all the individual events.

A day in speech and drama included working on contest material, developing acting techniques, doing improvisations, or analyzing plays. Debate students also went to the mid-high to give demonstration debates.

Research is a big part of debating, as Mike Greeson and Joey Wiginton can vouch for.

Lights! Camera! Action!

The differences in school life were felt in many ways including the clubs and organizations. Among the changes for Drama club were a new teacher, Miss Koos, a switch in places of the musical and play, joining the National Forensic League and dunk booth at the Czech festival.

But some people think that all drama club does is put on plays and talk about make-up and scene changes; not so. Drama club is one of the most active groups in Yukon.

Among their usual activities of casting, directing, and producing plays, drama club had a little fun with a Halloween and New Year's Eve party. They also went as a group to see "Annie" at the Civic Center and played DECA in a winning game of touch football.

Not many people know or appreciate all the work that goes into producing a play. Along with the usual problems, such as Johnny not knowing his lines or Susie losing all the important props, was added the confusion of a new drama teacher and a new way of doing things. Those in the play spent about 10 hours a week rehearsing and were at school at 6 a.m. to prepare for the senior matinee. But all turned out well as Miss Koos and the cast gave a superb performance of "Our Miss Brooks". Not only was it performed the traditional three times, once for seniors and twice for the community, but the cast also did a benefit performance for the Daily Living Center, and elderly home, at the Fairgrounds.

Working to meet deadlines is a continuous problem faced by the yearbook and newspaper staffs. Mr. Sheline and his photography classes were an asset to both staffs as they provided them with needed pictures.

The newspaper staff and the yearbook staff both have a great responsibility in preparing the publications for YHS. The Scene staff prepared the news for our school paper while the Miller staff designed layouts for our annual. Both staffs attended the fall and spring workshops on the OU campus to learn better techniques in their respective fields.

From time to time, staff members could be seen combing the halls with a "press pass" in hand covering their assigned beats.

In addition, photography classes were introduced to YHS. Over the summer, a darkroom was installed to provide a lab for the classes. With the amateur photographers at work, students were warned to smile as they walked down the halls.

"An Apple A Day Will Get You An "A" "

Future Teachers of America were interested in school related jobs held by teachers, counselors and administrators.

They got experience for future jobs by tutoring at Shedeck Elementary in January. Also, during FTA Week, which was February 25-29, the members taught classes at YHS. In February, the members attended the OSU Conference.

FTA had a Christmas party and sponsored a fund raising project to donate money to the senior book scholarship.

It's All In Your Mind

Psychology classes studied many things. Stress and conflict, behavioral disorders, social influence and moral development. Ms. Rogers also discussed human problems such as child abuse, death, alcohol and drug abuse, and suicide.

Ms. Fuchs taught classes of sociology, economics, and problems of society. Sociology is the study of cultural organization and variation and the study of processes and institutions of society. They used educational games and audio visual aids to show structuring aspects and cultural variations of society.

Economics is the study of distribution and consumption of natural resources. Many games were used to duplicate some aspects of economic life such as production in a primitive fashion, banks competing for business, determining best process for a competitive product, advertising and tax forms. Charts and graphs were used to help teach.

In problems of society, the units vary because it is a student choice but mostly they study population, urban problems, prejudice, discrimination and the family. They used a variety of materials in learning.

Miller Pride "Most Impressive"

Ernie Abraham, a senior band member, shows his enthusiasm by "getting down" with his saxophone at the pep assembly.

"We'ew number one" was the cry of these ecstatic band members. The band was voted "most impressive band in the state" by a panel of judges at a marching contest in the fall. DeAnn Merritt and fellow marchers clutch the trophy with Miller Pride.

"Early morning practice tomorrow no matter what the weather." This is what was heard from band director, Larry Taylor by band members all marching season. But all the practice paid off as the "Pride" won a superior rating at the regional contest in Mustang. Then it was on the road to the Lawton superior contest, considered as the state contest, where they were voted the number one band in 4A. Then they were awarded most impressive marching band in the state.

All band members who tried out for All State made it past the primary competition. DeAnn Merritt made the All State Stage Band. The band competed in concert at Central State Contest.

The band takes time out from playing their instruments to watch and cheer for the Miller football team. Supporting the athletic program is something they do very well.

One year seemed to make the difference as the band got it together in 79-80. Mr. Wayne Coon, Mr. Tom Parham, and Mr. Gene Smith were assistant band directors. Drum Majors were senior, DeAnn Merritt and junior Brenda Nevil. Band officers were: Kenny Wagoner, President; Earnie Abraham, vice-president, Sandy Lewis, secretary; Terri Cardwell, junior rep.; Chris Reed, sophomore rep.; Janis Campbell, rifle captain, and Beth Stanley, flag captain.

They Take Pride In Being Flashy

Each of these girls worked hard to make the flag team, rifle corps, and twirler, practices as exciting and sharp as their performances.

They were not there to take up space at the half-time of the games, but to add color and flash to the performances.

During the summer, they each had very long hours of practices, and many camps to attend. But, while at camp, they learned new ideas to add even more zest to the half-time entertainment.

Unlike the band each and every member must set time aside to raise funds to pay for their uniforms.

United Voices

Reflect In Harmonies

Sounds of music could be heard every day as vocal students prepared for a very busy year.

To begin the year, they had a Musical Review that provided a range of music for everyone. Then they put on a Thanksgiving festival for the community that was directed by Coleman Smith, a professor of music at OCU. But Christmas seemed to be their busiest season. They performed Christmas concerts at Shepard Mall, McDonald's and the school gym. They celebrated after these various concerts with fun and fellowship.

There were many outstanding personalities throughout the year, Kerry Balentine, Debbie Holmes, and Ron Sterling made the All-State Choir, and Stan Friend and Debbie Holmes were elected vocal Beau and Belle at the Christmas concert.

Spring brought many hours of hard work to prepare for the spring concert and graduation. They won many medals at both the district and State contests.

Ever wonder where all the money goes? Just ask Stan Friend.

They Mind Their Own Business

Being a future business leader deals with much more than just paperwork. For example, in the spring, business students attended an FBLA convention.

There they competed with students from all over the state.

The club is set up for the purpose of preparing for the office jobs.

COE had several fund raiser, first they sold candles. COE also attended the FBLA convention.

Also included in business were the classes of accounting, typing, and shorthand. These gave students experience for the working world.

Vo-tech Is More Than Just School

Scott Dahlke is concentrating on changing the voltage in electronics.

Penny Hall is working hard trying to learn the parts of the digestive tract.

Tammy Davenport in commercial art.

Dusty Chick's welding ability has already opened up job opportunities.

Instead of being a pilot, it appears that Danny Ruston would rather work on planes.

Charles Estell and Gary Prince got a little hot under the collar and decided to fix the air conditioner.

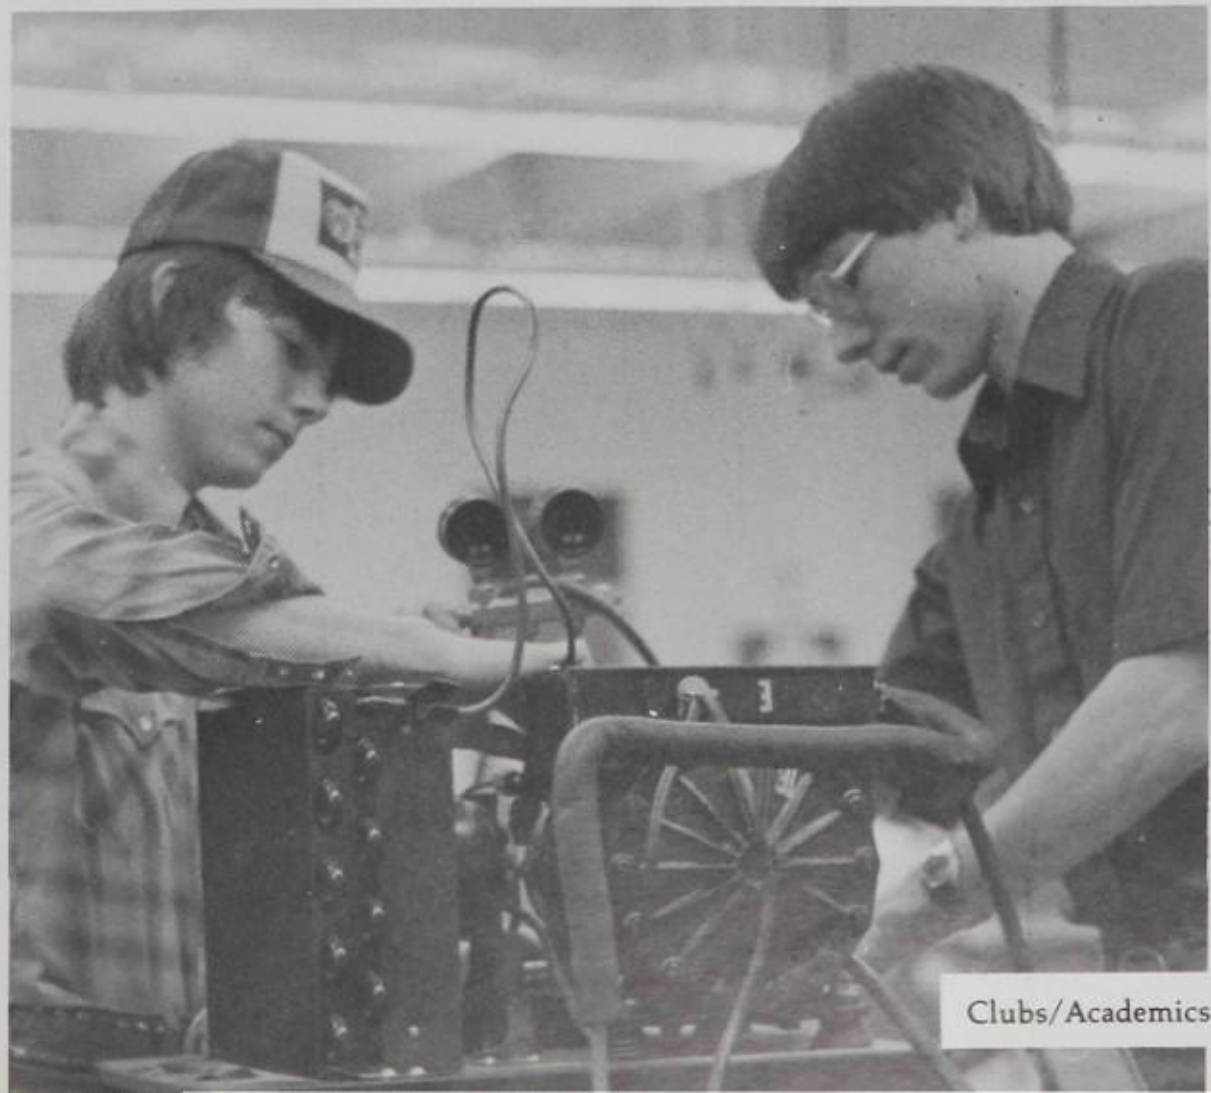

Canadian Valley area Vo-Tech is a very enterprising organization whose main purpose is to train young men and women as well as adults in a vast field of trades and occupations. Vo-Tech trains individuals in a wide field of trades ranging from commercial arts and nursing to auto mechanics and welding.

The Vo-Tech has morning and afternoon classes as well as night classes. They are also starting a new program in which they are going to hold various seminars such as a hunters safety course and trouble shooting electrical power supplies.

The morning and afternoon classes both last three hours which include a fifteen minute break. Many people have a mistaken point of view about Vo-Tech. Many think it's an easy grade, or a great way to ditch class. But in reality it is a very serious organization. They have a very strict attendance policy.

The main thing that some students like is the amount of responsibility bestowed upon them. "They trust you more as an adult," said one student. This policy proved to be a definite plus. The discipline and theft problems are almost nonexistent. Vo-Tech is an integral part of continuing education in Yukon.

Danny Dowding is making sure to pull down his safety hood before welding.

They Get Around

Counselor and office aides don't get enough credit for the hard work they put in. Not only do they pick up absentees and deliver counselor and office request forms, but they also type, file, answer the phone, and run errands.

In order to be a counselor or office aide, which is a non-credit service, a student must be honest, reliable, trustworthy, take initiative and have good moral character. "We could not do the things we have to do without them. They are really doing a great service and I feel like they deserve credit for it," said Ms. Novak. The counselor aides are responsible for the student cumulative folder while the office aides' duties are to fill out slips to be signed by one of the principals for students to leave school and sell pencils and pens.

When asked what it was like to be an office aide, one student said, "We have fun writing out tardy slips for each other and shooting rubber bands when we're not working."

Booking It!

For the first time Mrs. Finn's library aides received grades for their work. There was a class for the aides called Library Science. By running the library, the aides are in charge of reshelving, helping students and checking our books as well as running errands for Mrs. Finn.

Each hour there were 3 or 4 aides. If there were 3 aides during the hour they were divided into floor, door, and desk duties. If there were 4 aides then mail duty was added.

Hard Work And Devotion Show In Fine Performances

Seniors Carol Duran, Debbie Stevens, and Lisa Tudor are held spellbound by the Football game.

Performing for the crowd are Andy Baldwin, Dia Campbell, Kitty Prentiss, Debbie Stevens, and Carol Duran.

Who would devote their summer mornings, early hours before school, game nights, and hard work to present us many fine performances? The Drill Team's hard work paid off as their performances were liked by everyone at the sports activity half-times. They have worked extra hard this year and did a very fine job!

Drill Team members are (row 1) Sec. Treas. Kitty Prentiss, Hist. Rep. Andy Baldwin, Kim Vangover, Beth Brannon, Captain Carol Duran, Julianna

Exercise Makes Students Physically Fit And Provides A Fun Time Too

Competition and skill is what's in the minds of those students who are taking P.E., Racket Sports, Fencing and Archery classes.

Each of the students get a chance to show their efforts and skills, one on one or together as a team. Being coached by Ms. Donna Geiger, they're good either way.

In P.E., many various sports are played, such as basketball, volleyball, football, basketball and badminton.

In the summertime, Racket Sports are usually played outside, but in the wintertime, badminton, fencing and archery classes are played indoors.

Whether the weather is good or bad, the classes get plenty of exercises, and stay in top shape.

That's mainly why the students enrolled. They are reaching their goals and achievements in the sports world!

Darwin Kahn, David Stout and Lynda Jackson work hard to build up their bodies.

Touche'! These students learned the fine art of fencing.

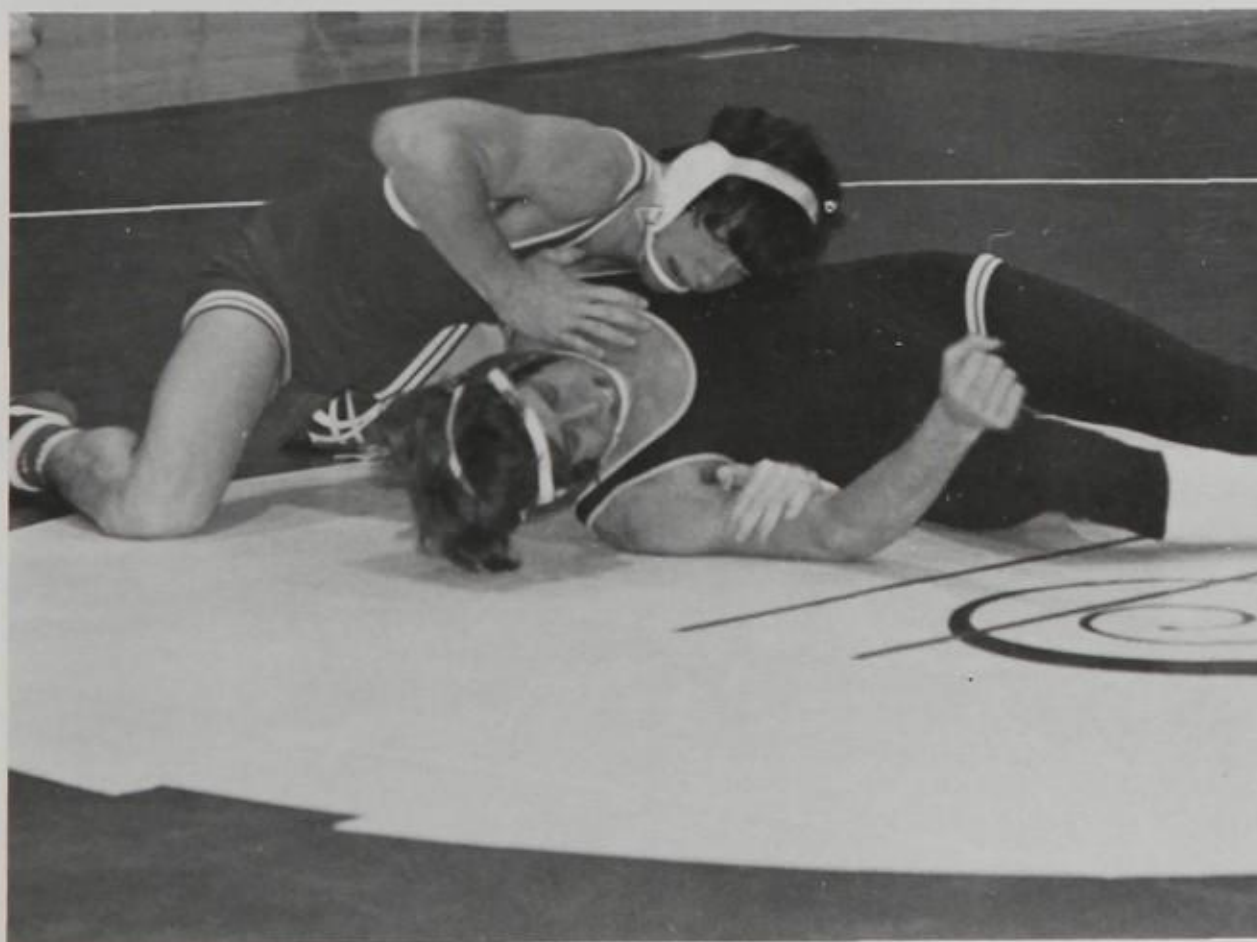

In anticipation to make the play, catcher Joyce Ritz awaits the throw at home as an approaching Putnam City North runner closes in.

SPORTS

Concentration on their half-time lecture seems to be the Millerettes main concern, as they march off to the lockerroom.

Junior Brad Wilson shows off his stuff by putting a move on his opponent during the Carl Albert match.

Touchdowns and Goal-tending, homeruns and shin-splints; it's all part of the game. Even though there were many changes in the athletic program, there were still the familiar victories and defeats.

Each major sport saw the introduction of a new head coach and with each new coach a new approach and game plan. Also new was the conversion to class 5A.

The football team enjoyed playing in a new stadium and experienced a close fellowship that was unique to this year.

The boys basketball team took a year to rebuild after the loss of most of their starters and coach. The girls team however was a powerhouse that promised to be a challenge to any 5A team.

Yukon wrestlers were almost unbeatable at any tournament and placed high as a team.

All of these sports combined to make Yukon respected in all athletic areas and whether we won or lost, our spirit was always there.

It's Not All Glamour And Glory

Sprained ankles, bruised thighs, and early morning practices, it all goes with the glamour of being a cheerleader. Besides rousing spirit at pep assemblies, the cheerleaders are also responsible for selling ribbons and raising spirit at the games (not an easy task)!

The girls practice at 6:30 in the morning every day during football practice and every week there is a pep assembly.

What could be better than early-morning practice to start the day off right?

Christi Lassiter and Jana Loudermilk practice a routine at camp.

Pep assemblies are never dull with these girls around to build spirit.

Queen For A Day

All the glamour and glory of that one night will be remembered vividly in the hearts of the queen and her attendants forever.

The queens were selected by the members of the sport or class of their title. This made it an honor to be chosen.

Photographs have captured only a single moment of the event but the true honor remains in the hearts of the queens and attendants.

Sportsmanship Is The Yukon opened the season under new head coach Milt Bassett and assistants Larry Derrick, Eddie Paul, Randal Lokey, Brent Clements, Rick Lawrence, John Civis, Jerry Johnson, Jay Arneson and Marty Kelsey.

The Millers hosted 4A's number one P.C. West. Yukon advanced to the Patriot nine yard line twice in the first half but couldn't score and the Patriots held a 21-0 half time lead. Yukon's leading rusher, Bob Howard, scored the Miller's only touchdown as Yukon lost the first game 27-7.

Yukon faced another number one team when they traveled to Ardmore. Randy Adkisson scored on touchdown runs of 1 and 52 yards after Brett McMurphy's two interceptions as Yukon held a 14-0 lead early in the third quarter. The defense kept 3A's top ranked team scoreless through three quarters but the Tigers came back in the fourth quarter with two quick touchdowns. Then with a minute left Ardmore ran a Yukon fumble 16 yards for a touchdown, which made the score a 21-14 loss.

Yukon visited the Carl Albert Titans next. The Titans held a 10-0 lead going into the third quarter. Although Garth Brooks threw for 84 yards the offense never got on track and Carl Albert added 10 fourth quarter points to shut out Yukon 20-0.

Yukon returned home next week to host the Shawnee Wolves. Bob Howard scored the games first touchdown and Mark Dechant ran a 32 yard interception back for a touchdown. Behind Garth Brooks 136 yards passing to Jimmy Hill and Steve Tillman, Randy Adkisson scored a touchdown in the third quarter. Brett McMurphy's second interception halted a Shawnee drive and Bob Howard scored his second touchdown as Yukon held a 26-15 lead. Shawnee then scored on a controversial kick-off return and ran a blocked punt for a touchdown as the Millers lost 30-26.

Number seven Mustang came to town next week and held a 7-0 lead over the Millers at the half. The Broncos capitalized on three Yukon turnovers to take a 24-0 lead. With Randy Adkisson rushing for a game high 82 yards, sophomore, John Stewart, scored the Millers lone touchdown as the Millers lost 31-8.

Kelly Kobs started his first game at quarterback against N.W. Classen. Yukon took the lead early in the second quarter when Brett McMurphy ran back a punt for a 95 yard touchdown and Bob Howard rushed for a career high 112 yards. In the second half, the defense limited the Knights to -2 yards rushing for the entire game. Standouts included Mark Dechant, who intercepted a pass at the Miller three and Jim Buser, who recovered a fumble. Yukon won easily 30-7.

Yukon hosted the Altus Bulldogs the next week. The Millers trailed 13-0 midway through the second quarter before closing within 6 points. In the fourth quarter, Altus scored on two turnovers to win 25-7.

U.S. Grant visited Yukon for the last home game. Kelly Kobs threw a 53 yard bomb to Garth Brooks and Brett McMurphy scored on the Millers longest rush of the year, a 93 yard run. Bob Howard scored from five yards out and Brooks caught a touchdown pass. Adkisson ran for his 2nd touchdown to make the final score 42-0.

Yukon ended its season when they traveled to Putnam City. The Pirates scored the only touchdown of the game in the first quarter. Brett McMurphy's interception in the fourth quarter halted what would have been a pirate touchdown but time ran out for Yukon with the score 7-0.

Sweaty Socks And Broken Shoelaces Just A Part Of The Race

Coach J. W. Loudermilk took control of both boys and girls cross country teams for the first time. The teams did well in most of the towns that they visited. The most outstanding members were Steve Balentine, Lea Beilman and Jane Clough. During the season both teams showed improvement.

Spiking And Striking

SOFTBALL

The softball team started practice on August 14 and the season ended on October 14.

The team was very young this year with only two returning starters, co-captains Joyce Ritz and DeAnn Merritt. The softball team didn't have a very successful season but Ms. Geiger said, "With all the youth and quality of talent on the team the millers should be very strong next year."

VOLLEYBALL

Since October the volleyball team had been practicing hard for two hours every day after school.

The volleyball season started the first week of March and continued up to the state tournament on April 25.

Besides the regular games the team traveled to tournaments in Mustang, Stillwater, Ponca City, and Tulsa.

This years returning starters were Sandy Bowlware, Susie Prafka, Joyce Ritz, Traci Taylor, and Marsha Schlachtenhaufen.

Miller Effort Ranks Best In Top League

In a game where winning is everything, and losing is most distasteful, the Miller basketball season would not seem successful. However, if a group of not so tall, not very experienced players were charged with carrying on the great Miller tradition, their effort during the season would speak for itself.

The young Millers competed in the states largest class, class 5-A. Their schedule included no easy teams. Every game, home or away, was exciting and almost every game was decided in the last few minutes of the game.

These young men were asked to do only the best they could. Seniors Don Berner, Rich Edmonds, Randy Ross, Larry Godfrey and Larry Wright responded like true Millers. Don Berner led the Okie Conference in scoring, averaging over 20 points a game.

Coaches are usually rewarded for the number of wins earned or responsible for the number of defeats inflicted. But for Coach Tom Colley, coaches Marty Kelsey and Gary Crissman the season was satisfying because this young team worked together, practiced together and played like true Yukon Millers.

Brad Hudson goes for a final shot.

Randy Ross tries to recover a rebound in the last remaining seconds of the game.

Don Berner struggles to recover the ball from one of other teams guards in the game

Leaping up through the players, Don Berner goes for two points.

Randy Ross races with one of the Lions to retrieve the ball.

Rich Edmonds dodges his opponent and heads for the basket at the game against the Moore Lions.

Millerettes State-Bound

As the Millerettes climbed the ladder of success they had to reach each rung of the ladder one at a time.

The girls have seen many changes on their way up. They made the move from 4A to the new class of 5A. They started a new type of play with rotating starters and rotating playing time.

There were four starting forwards, Mindi Mayfield, Jane Clough, Lorri Cole and Dana Seeliger. On the guard end Deresa Moyer, Lanie Miller, and Vicki Clovis filled the starting positions.

Although some things change others remain the same. The Millerettes have established themselves as a top power in 5A basketball and this past season was no exception.

The girls reached a new rung by winning the first first place trophy ever for a Yukon girls team. They won the Linsay Annual All-Girls Tourney, after beating Dickson, Elgen and Piedmont.

Mindi Mayfield goes up for two against the Putnam City North Panthers. Their win over the Panthers was another step to "State".

vis assist, to hold on to their first quarter lead.

Dana Seeliger out jumps her guard to go up for two.

Guards Lanie Miller and Vicki Clovis are determined not to let their opponent get away with the ball.

Lori Cole and Jane Clough fight with an El Reno player for possession of the ball.

Leslie Ward sneaks down and around to get the basketball from her opponent.

Mindi Mayfield seems to be having a little bit of trouble in getting rid of her panther friends in an attempt to keep the ball.

"Too Tall Jane" gets her jump ball.

Avoiding a Moore player, Lori Cole advances the ball to the goal.

Struggling to get the ball to the basket is Dana Seeliger.

New Coach Makes Difference- Wrestlers Back On Top Again

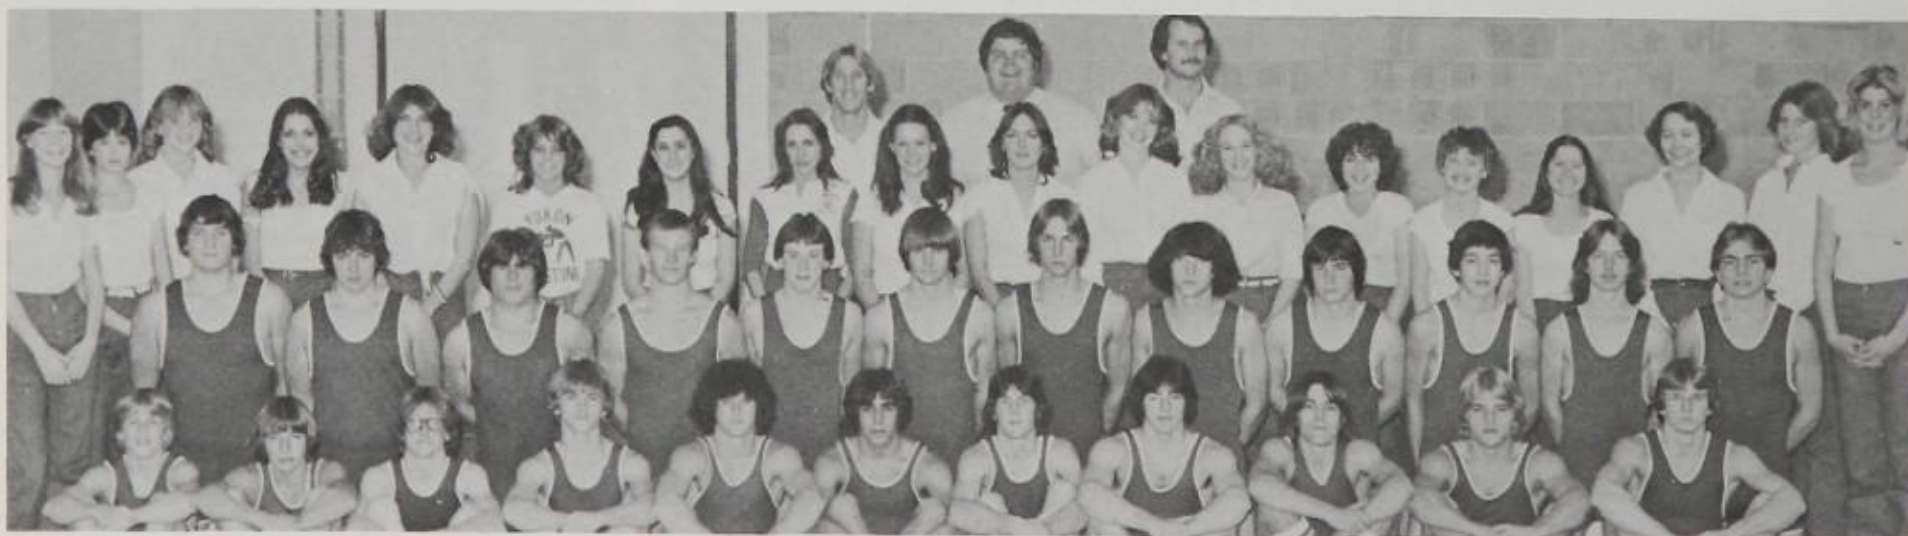

One year has made a great difference for the Miller grapplers. Their new coach, Mr. Jay Arneson taught them many different skills. Running and lifting weights are just a few ways they keep in shape. Arneson has taught the millers a whole different technique of wrestling, they spend a lot of time on fundamentals and drilling.

All the hard work definately paid off, for the first time in history Yukon beat Putnam City West and Norman. Hard work and determination helped the Millers accomplish their goal. Coach Arneson gave them confidence in themselves and by having that, they had the ability to win.

Keeping in shape and holding their weight was a tough job. Coach Arneson didn't like for them to pull alot of weight but sometimes they didn't have a choice.

Steve Hoehner listens to Coach Bishop's instructions as Coach Arneson watches a match in progress.

Hard Workouts Make Champions

We have had very dedicated track teams. Rain or shine; hot or cold, they practiced every day after school. When it was either too cold or too wet outside they ran inside ... in the halls?!

For the distance runners there were the 880, 2 mile relay, 1 mile relay, 2 mile run and the mile run. The sprinters had the 60 yd. dash, 100 yd. dash, 300 yd. dash, 220, 440, and the 440 yd. relay to choose from and the hurdlers had the 330 intermediate hurdles and the 110 yd. high hurdles. There were also the high jump, long jump, shot put, pole vault, and discus for those who participated in field events.

The team participated in two indoor meets and many more outdoor meets. Both indoor meets were at the Myriad, at the first one the boy's team placed 6th overall, 2nd in the shot put, and 1st in the 600 with Jim Buser setting the meet record. At the 2nd Myriad meet, Bob Howard placed first in the shot put with a throw of 56 feet and Lea Beilman placed 4th in the 300 yd. run. The boys relay placed 6th, and the girls relay placed 5th, Jim Buser placed 3 in the 600 and Jalima Daniels placed 5th in the 600. The team overall placed 7th and the girl's team placed 8th.

Both the girl's and the boy's team began practicing in mid-November and started the season on January 18. Although last year's team was a hard act to follow, both teams lived up to all expectations.

One, Two, Three Strikes You're Out!

The team started with twelve members. Four of these were returning players from last year. At the first of the season, the team had good team speed and good pitching. Later, they developed their hitting and fielding to become a great team. The team started out slow because of their lack of experience but by the end of the season, they were working together very well.

Last year the team did so well that they made it to the State Tournament at Tulsa. The players who made this trip were: Bill Cox, Jimmy Hill, Randy Ross, Matt Wood, Brad Miland, and Joe Cooper. Four of these returned as starters. They were: Randy Ross, Matt Wood, Brad Miland, and Joe Cooper.

The three coaches that led them through their long, hard season were: Coach Teasley, Coach Clements, and Coach Lokey. They provided great leadership to the players along with the four returning seniors. Because of the total effort put forth by every player, the team came out on top.

All's Fair In Love And Par

The golf team worked hard and it showed at tournaments. They put in many hours of practice at the Surrey Hills Golf and Country Club. There were several district tournaments that the golfers attended.

Hard work and determination were also the key factors for the tennis teams. The girls and boys teams practiced approximately two and a half hours a day, at the Community Center. Two of the tournaments were held at Altus and Star Spencer. Both teams worked hard and it definitely showed.

PEOPLE

Spirit club members Brad Miland, Don Berner, Steve Johnson, Robin Riddle and Dana Seeliger made people-words at pep assemblies.

Faithful spirit boosters, Steve Johnson, Vernon Milliron, Chris West, George Eifler and David Beville, stay to cheer on the Millers while the rest take a break.

They came in all shapes, sizes, and ages, but the one thing they had in common was their goal to better the school and community.

The administration and faculty did their part by helping the students in every way they could to accomplish their goals. Without teachers, the students would never graduate.

The students have stuck together through wins and losses, good times and bad times, party times and guilt times. We have been together through growing up and sharing frustrations, fears, and happiness.

With a new decade beginning, we plan to help in every way we can to start it off on the right foot, and to make improvements on goals and future plans by learning from our mistakes in the past.

These three administrators spend another exhausting day in front of the office, guarding the non-existing pencil machine.

Moonlighting By Brush

Every Summer Mr. Greteman and Mr. Leatherwood become partners in the house painting business. They painted at the school for 6 years then decided that they could make more money if they went into business for themselves. Painting is hard work but they both enjoy it. Besides, there are times when it's fun too. Sometimes they have a stand off and paint each other to make things more interesting or one of them steps in a bucket of paint and it breaks up the monotony of the job. Then there are always things that happen to liven it up. Take for instance the time Mr. Greteman had a sore toe and he took off his shoe. He was painting when a bee flew up and stung him. He dropped the paint bucket on his toe and had a bee sting too.

Painting can also be dangerous. One summer they had to paint a 3 story house on a 40' ladder when the wind was blowing at gale force.

They really enjoy painting together and have a very relaxed and friendly relationship. They won't be able to paint together very much this coming summer now that Mr. Greteman is Vice Principal but they are still planning to do as much painting as they can.

S Is For S-C-H-L-A-C-H-T-E-N-H-A-U-F-E-N

Some people get frustrated having names like Smith or Jones. But, imagine how it would be going to the other extreme with a name like Schlachtenhaufen. One teacher (namely Mrs. Carol Schlachtenhaufen) had this problem.

Her maiden name — Schultz — along with her married name is German. There are two opinions of what Schlachtenhaufen means: One is "many battles" the other is "body heaper".

Mrs. "S" said that in the old country, battles left many dead and there wasn't time to bury them. Someone had to heap the bodies and burn them, perhaps the "Schlachtenhaufen".

Mrs. "S" also said that her name often causes trouble with the mail because there are very few computer mailing labels that have enough space for the whole name. So if you get mixed up with other people by having a name like Smith or Jones—think about it. Maybe it's a blessing in disguise.

FEATHERS AND FEEDERS MAKE UP A FUN HOBBY

While most students are getting up and ready for their day to begin, there is one young man who is out exercising and feeding his pigeons. You may be asking yourself who is this young man? It is none other than Yukon's own, Larry Godfrey. Larry is an active member of PRO (Pigeon Racers of Oklahoma), he's had his birds for almost two years and he races them every weekend. To get their exercise, Larry lets them out every morning to fly around. To train them he takes them about 30 miles away from his house and lets them go. Since they are homing pigeons they know exactly where to go; they fly directly back to their food and shelter.

MILLER ON WHEELS

Evel Knievel, look out! Here comes Jere Fletchall, a new student at Yukon High. Jere is a senior who moved here from Enid.

Racing motorcycles is his favorite pasttime. Jere is sponsored by Yamaha who furnishes his cycle and pays for his trips. He is trying to qualify to go to the Astro-dome for the Grand National Championship in March. First he has to qualify in top ten of his class. This is to see who's the fastest all over the United States.

Jere also played defensive end and kicker for the millers.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE CONCERTS

We all like to go to concerts. Anita Brauser likes to also, but instead of watching them, she helps with them. She works with the commercial audio division of Driver Music Company setting up sound systems for various concerts and events.

She got her start by following concert tours and meeting Bruce Jackson the chief sound engineer for Clair Brothers Audio in Pennsylvania. "I began taking evening classes in electronics to get a background of what sound was all about. I plan to take some classes in recording engineering this summer and would like to work in the future for Show-Co, an audio company in Dallas."

She has set up for Johnny Rodriguez, the Jerry Lewis telethon at Crossroad Mall, an outdoor concert for MCA recording artists, The Bill Burns group, and several other places. So, next time you are at a concert, just remember, Anita Brauser might have set up the sound for it.

"WHERE DO I GO FROM HERE?"

That question seems to come up a lot during our senior year. But, fortunately, there is someone who can help answer that and many more questions for graduating seniors. Mrs. Novak, the senior counselor, spent most of her time identifying and "keeping tabs" on the seniors. She was responsible for college counseling, and Scholarship information. She also had to send off scholarship data, student transcripts, and last semester grades to those colleges chosen by the students.

"I don't know what we'd do without her. I can't imagine running down all of that information myself" said one grateful senior. Mrs. Novak said she enjoyed working with seniors because no two days are ever the same. There is an excitement about Seniors and that excitement permeates to me. By the way, the two top college choices for Yukon seniors were OSU and OU.

STEVE WAGNER: PORTRAIT OF A TEENAGE TAXIDERMIST

Who has one of the most interesting jobs among teenagers in Yukon? Steve Wagner. Why? How many of us stuff animals for a living?

He has worked at Hillman's Taxidermy for the past 1½ years doing just that — stuffing animals. He picked this job because it was interesting and different.

He learned how by taking a course in taxidermy. It lasted about 4 months, and he received a diploma for it.

When the animal comes in, it has to be skinned, and all flesh is removed from the hide. Then the skin is tanned into leather and stretched back over a sculptured form. Glass eyes are set in, and the antlers are polished, if there are any. Steve said, "You have to know how an animal is shaped and how it moves to really make it look life like."

He's worked on animals from Africa and India as well as all game animals from North America. The largest animal he's done is a grizzly bear, and the smallest is a tarantula. The most common animals brought in are deer, bass and pheasants.

FASHION WITH A FLAIR

"I've liked clothes since grade school," states Carrie Lorange. "I guess my sister really got me interested in fashion; I respect her opinion very much." Carrie plans to attend OU this fall and major in fashion merchandising. She is employed by Cyrk & Co., a high-fashion clothing store in Oklahoma City. She modeled for Cyrk's fashion show at the "Hall of Mirrors" in the Civic Center in August.

Carrie has set her career goal to become a model. But because of her lack of height, she anticipates that she will go into fashion merchandising. Carrier buys most of her clothes from Cyrk's, where her brother-in-law owns the store. When she finds spare time, Carrie enjoys being with her family and friends.

RHONDA SCHELL IS FAST ON HER FEET

Almost any weekend you visit Starship Nine, you will see Rhonda Schell. She loves to disco and Starship Nine has almost become her second home.

Her dancing isn't all just for fun. She has won several contests, including a first place trophy for couple dancing at Starship Nine.

Along with these honor, she has also had some embarrassing moments. Once she fell over her partner's shoulder and was caught only by her feet. (Perhaps a new dance?)

Rhonda has been taking dance lessons since she was three years old. She started disco lessons about a year ago and now gives them herself.

HE PLAYS TO THE TUNE OF A DIFFERENT DRUMMER

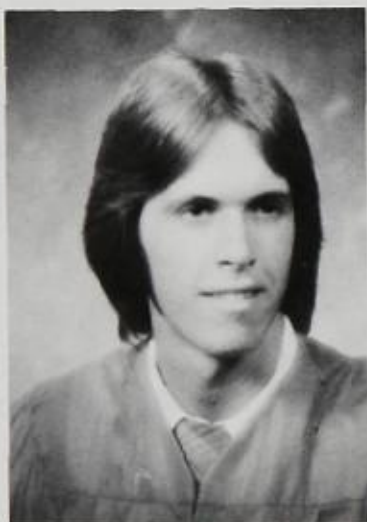

Seventeen-year-old Roy Farrow has turned drummer. He has been playing the drums for 3½ years. He received his first set of drums for his 15th birthday during his sophomore year. Last July, Roy got a fifteen piece drum set.

Roy first became interested in the drums when he was in elementary school. He took a rhythm test and scored highly. But it wasn't until his sophomore year that he started developing his talent. He now practices everyday, anywhere from 30 minutes to an hour.

At the end of Roy's junior year, Tony Clark, Garth Brooks and Mark Tate asked him to join their group, "Foggy Mountain Band." He joined the band and has been their drummer for one year.

BACK TO THE DRAWING BOARD

Drawing her way to a career is Senior, Teresa Covalt. She is currently employed at Diamond Jim's Jewelry Store drawing illustrations for their newspaper and magazine advertisements.

Backing up her success is a line of honors and awards which she has received in her previous school years. Even though she has a jump on her career, she still plans to attend Central State University and major in advertising.

On the side, Teresa also letters certificates, awards and diplomas for various businesses and organizations. She has even lettered an award for Governor George Nigh. Besides her job, she also does different types of art jobs for a little extra money on the side.

ROCK AND ROLL LIVES ON!

How many people can say that they have almost 200 albums? How many have every Beatles album, plus fifteen more albums that are either solos by members of the band or collectors albums?

Wes Sharp, a senior, can. Wes, who started collecting his albums at the tender age of ten, has, to date, 187 albums, about 100 45's, and 30 cassettes. The first LP he ever bought was the Beatles' "Yesterday and Today." The last one was Led Zeppelin's "In Through the Out Door."

Wes' all time favorite band is the Beatles, then comes the Rolling Stones, Pat Travers, Led Zeppelin, and the late Jimi Hendrix. He has no favorite LP, however, and explained that "there are so many great albums that you can't have a favorite."

HEIL! HOLMES!

Senior Debbie Holmes had a very unusual summer vacation. She went to Germany. She saved her money all year so she could go with her grandparents to visit her aunt and uncle in a small village in Germany. The flight took 10 hours.

While she was in Germany, Debbie visited Triere, the oldest city in Germany; Hemarod Abbey; the Bonapart Zoo; and took a cruise down the Rhein River. She also spent a week in England, where she took a ferry across the English Channel, visited Henry II's castle built in the eleventh century, Warwick Castle where Henry VIII lived, and saw Madam Tussand's Wax Museum, which contains wax figures made in Henry VIII's time. The other European country she visited was France, which her aunt and uncle drove to. Because she couldn't understand anybody and got lost a few times, Debbie didn't like it as much as England and Germany.

To Debbie, the trip seems more like a dream now than a reality.

CLASSY CHASSIS UNIQUE TO YHS

One of the most important things to a teenager is owning his or her own car. The most unique car at YHS is a classic 1956 Ford Thunderbird owned by Ginger Cullers.

It is a classic and highly valued because Ford made this type of sports car for only three years in 1955, 56, and 57. That is why they are so valuable and hard to find.

Ginger's automatic T-Bird still has the original radio. All the parts are either the original or a replacement but it is exactly like it was in 1956. It also has a hard top that can be made into a convertible.

Ginger belongs to a T-Bird Club in California for T-Bird owners.

RHONDA HILL HELPS HER STUDENTS PLAY THAT TUNE

"I really enjoy teaching piano because it gives me a chance to work with younger kids and teach them something they can use in their future." Rhonda Hill teaches piano and theory in her spare time for extra money. She teaches piano to third through ninth graders on Thursdays and Fridays for 30 minute lessons. Theory classes are once a month on Mondays. Rhonda has been involved in these activities for the past two years.

"SMILE AND SAY 'CHEESE'"

It's funny how the sight of a camera brings instant squeals of excitement and shouts for the nearest mirror and comb. But these responses aren't anything new to school photographer Mike Hames. It's not often that you see Mike without his camera or equipment. He takes all of the pictures for the Scene and most of the pictures for the yearbook. Mike said he spends approximately four hours in the dark room daily.

In addition to this timeconsuming activity, which began as a hobby, Mike has a job and holds down a full schedule. In an average week Mike uses about five rolls of film. So when you glance through your yearbook take a second look at those pictures and think about the time and effort that went into them. Because without pictures it wouldn't be much of a book.

Mike Hames takes a picture at one of the pep assemblies.

Scuba Diving

Lisa Rose, a YHS Junior, has an interesting hobby --- scuba diving. In fact she is a certified scuba diver. She first got interested in scuba diving from her brother.

This summer she attended a six-week training course at the Central YMCA in Oklahoma City. There she learned first-aid prevention, underwater life, scuba diving techniques, and many other related things.

After the training period, a one-hundred and fifty question and water test was given. After that they went to Lake Tenkiller, where Lisa dove forty-five feet to explore caves.

Dance Dance Dance

Andy Baldwin of Yukon High School has had an interesting past and is working toward a bright future. Born in Berlin, Germany on March 5, 1962, she then moved to the U.S. because her father was in the service. She has recently returned to her native land and relates many facts that prove to be quite interesting. Some of which are: the citizens of Germany are very friendly and hard-working, the climate is very cold compared to what we are accustomed to here, and the sun rises at 3:00 a.m. and sets at 10 p.m. The trip over proves to be quite lengthy; the excursion by plane takes a total of 27 hours.

When asked if she would like to return, she stated that her family is planning another trip next summer, and she eventually wishes to live there after graduation.

Andy is also involved in jazz, ballet, and tap dancing which has been a part of her life for 8 years.

Old Hands With A Brush

We've heard of different painting hobbies; painting on canvas, boards, or houses. Well, here's a new one — painting on windows! That's what Tammy Davenport and Lezlie Ayers do for extra money during any holiday season.

They got started painting windows when the Mid-High art club (which they were members of) took it on as a project. The club painted windows at McDonald's and the two girls decided to go out on their own to other businesses and paint windows for money.

They say there's more to it than just going and painting on the windows. First, they have to mix dishwashing soap with the paint and after they paint them. To get the designs on the windows the girls said they drew them on with soap.

They were very successful their 1st year, charging $10.00 per window and they made a total of $100.00 from two businesses.

Laura Kahn's truck for some fun. This scene was re-enacted many times as juniors and seniors alike celebrate the end of school.

CLOSING

Mrs. Duke smiles to herself as she punches out her last grade cards for the year. Because the holes were so small, teachers had to use pencil tip or a paper clip.

Bill Hamm stands alone near the deserted lockers as he empties his books and papers. Students took a special joy in throwing out those books that represented a year of hard work.

Well, this was the end. The halls were quiet as we cleared out our lockers and turned that combination for the last time. We piled into cars and trucks to head for the lakes or maybe stayed behind to talk to that one favorite teacher who had helped us through the year. Cheers and tears mingled as seniors looked about realizing this was it. Even the juniors felt a twinge of excitement at being next year's seniors. We had changed a lot during that year, but we would always be a Miller.

We could never forget what a difference Yukon High School has made in our lives.

Yukon . . . More Than Just A "Bedroom" Community

What a difference a year can make, especially if you live in Yukon. Yukon is one of the fastest growing communities in Oklahoma and in the past year has obtained 12 new businesses, 2 new housing districts, and a new elementary school.

Many people refer to Yukon as a "bedroom community", which means that people live in Yukon but shop and work in Oklahoma City, but recently this has been exposed as a falsehood because of Yukon's sudden expansion.

Yukon may not be as entertainment-oriented as Oklahoma City, but it provides many activities and services for its citizens. High school and junior high guys spend many hours building up their muscles at the Community Center and almost all the community churches provide youth activities throughout the year.

The Yukon Community Center was very helpful to our community. It had activities for all ages such as basketball, tennis, weight room, arts and crafts. It also has a playground.

Behind The 'Scene'

One of the greatest contributors to our community is Mr. Jerry Whited. He is managing editor of the "Yukon Review" and has worked on the staff for seven years.

Mr. Whited has been editor for about two and a half years. When first at the Review he was a photographer and sports editor. After four years of climbing, he became the top editor.

He never majored in Journalism but rather in Theology and Teaching. His career changed while he was a minister in Missouri. He was working as a disc jockey on the side. He later found a job on the newspaper where he was living.

He moved to Yukon two years later and settled into his new job. "I enjoy my work and I think we will be staying", he said. As editor, Mr. Whited is responsible for the news content, laying out the front page, taking care of the editorial page and deciding what stories and pictures should be put in to the paper. "The pictures are very important", he added.

Last year he was awarded "Rotarian of the Year" and this year he is president of the Rotary Club. He has been attending the Town and Country Christian Church and his services to our community are greatly appreciated.

The YHS yearbook staff along with the Scene Staff would like to thank Mr. Whited and the whole Review staff for the help they have provided and the time they have taken to put out our paper.

A reading fair raised money for the Yukon Educational System, by selling old books.

An annual event at the Yukon Methodist Church is the Ground Hog Dinner. It started out just as a dinner but has become a tradition.

Businesses flew flags in remembrance of the hostages in Iran for unity week.

Robeson appraises jewelry after the gold nuke.

Kim Whited stands on site of future skating rink.

Hard Workers Keep School Running Smoothly

The loyalty of cafeteria workers is immeasurable. Even though they had to put up with jokes and insults, they still put out hot meals. The women in the serving line always had a friendly smile and something cheery to say.

As for the janitors, they kept the school running efficiently. They were the ones who swept up broken glass and did other odd jobs. They also kept the school clean by sweeping every classroom.

Together both janitors and cafeteria workers kept the school running smoothly. Without both of these groups there wouldn't have been hot meals or clean floors and empty trashcans.

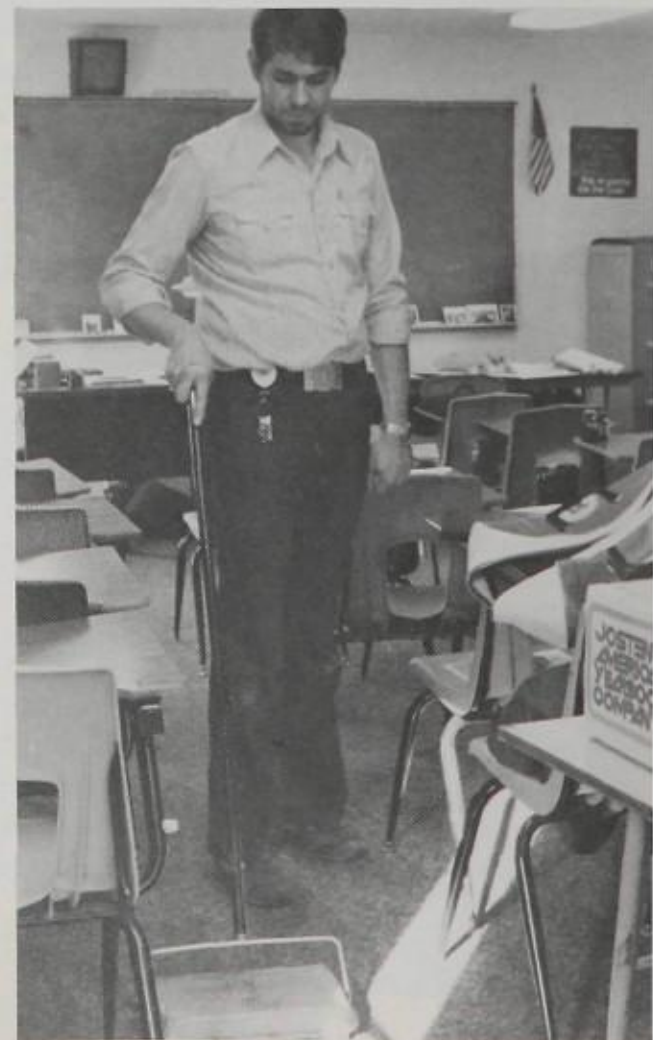

These two cooks start setting up early to be ready for the rush at lunch time.

Herman Brown helps to keep the floors clean.

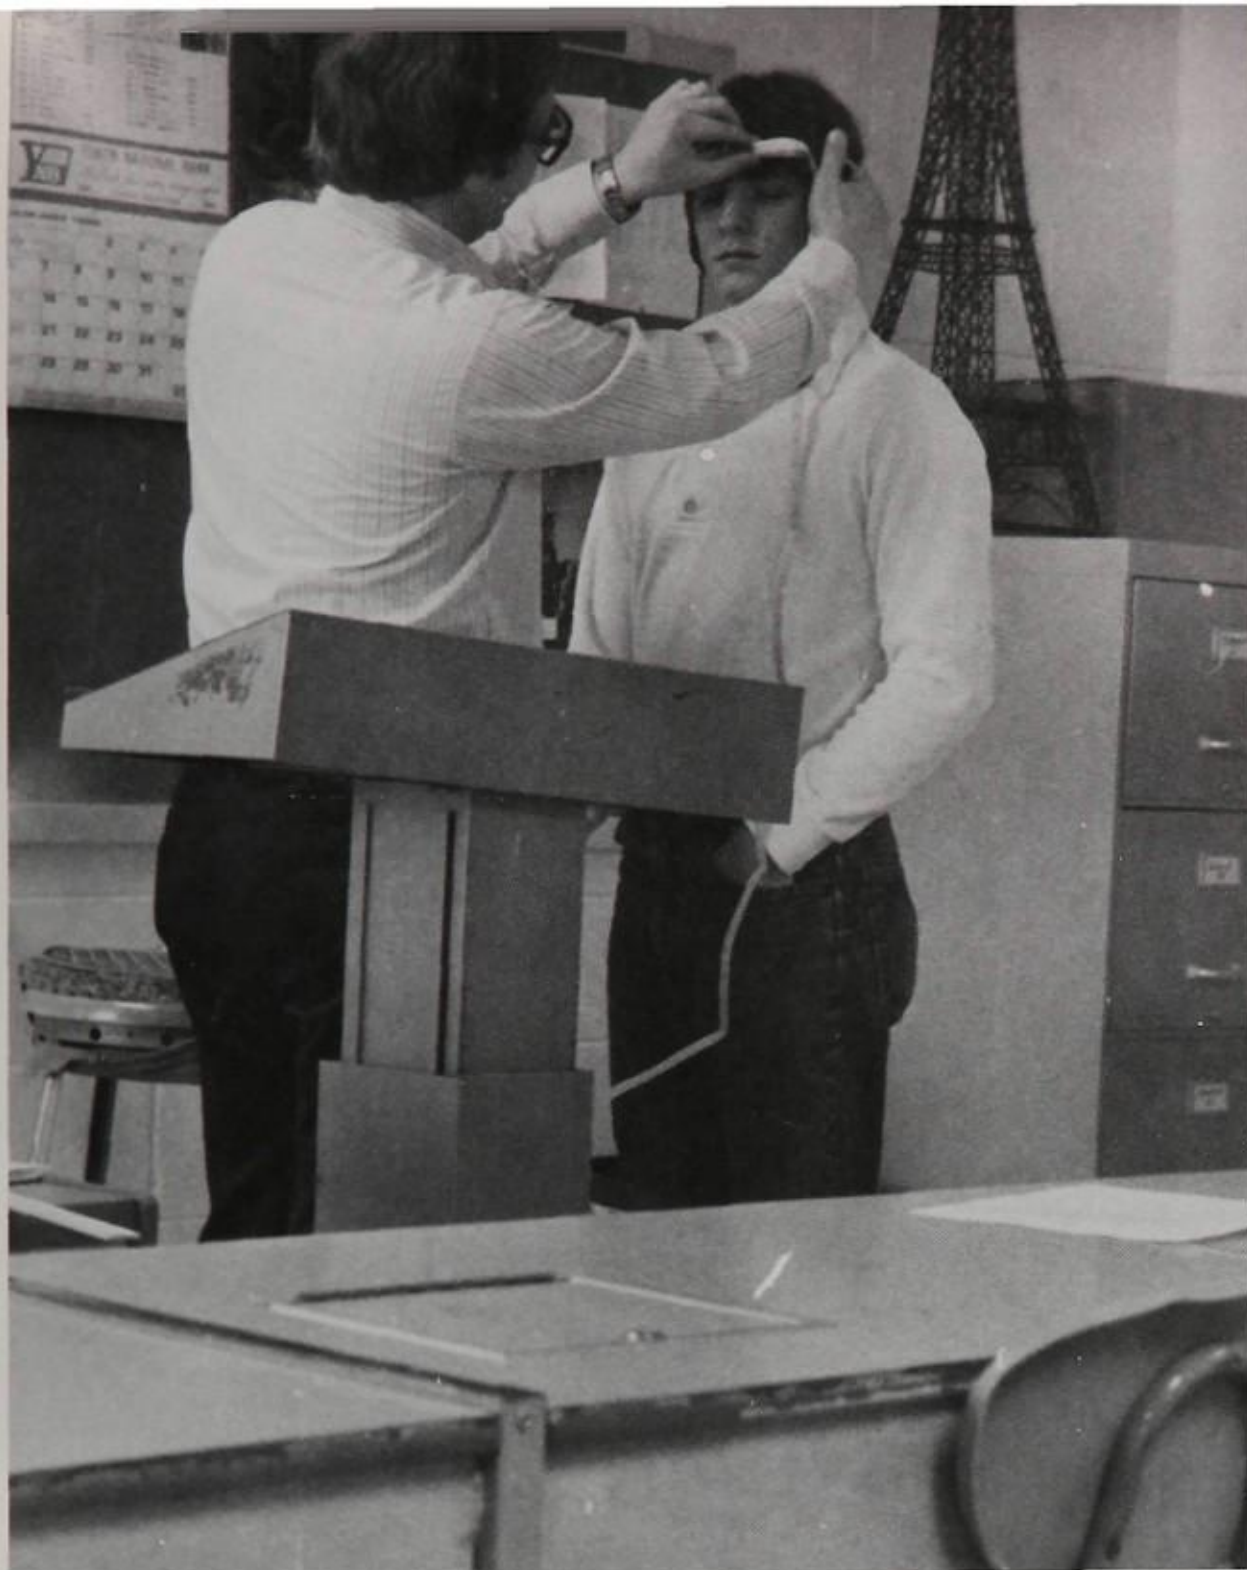

Arnold Adams and Bob Reynolds help unload the delivery truck.

Lowell Wells does his part in cleaning up the journalism room.

One of the steps toward graduation and college is measuring for your cap and gown.

Here Mr. Novak helps Jay Orr to choose the right size.

Is There Life After High School?

One of the most important decisions in someone's life is what his career will be. A step toward this decision is what college to attend, a decision that is made by almost every senior.

College was the goal most of us began working toward the day we entered high school and many even before that. As a senior, we began filling out applications and scholarships at the beginning of the year. And during the summer following graduation many went to the college of their choice for orientation.

College is a very expensive and different endeavor. The average cost of a public school is $2,000 a year but the experiences you gain are priceless.

Those who aren't attending college are going straight into a career or trade school.

Mrs. Novak helps George Eifler fill out an admissions form for college.

Kathie Slutter packs her panda as she gets ready for dorm life.

"Getting Around"

High prices greatly influenced transportation and travel this year. Even though many of us continued to race about in our cars, we certainly felt the decrease in our pockets.

Of course, driving was not the only means of travel. One could jog, ride a bike, snow ski, skateboard, or the ole favorite, walking.

While some of us were burning up gas here, a group of YHS students made an exciting trip to Europe which ended with being hijacked. (Perhaps the hijacker also thought gas price were too high!)

Senior John Collins showed his skill on the skateboard down the hall way.

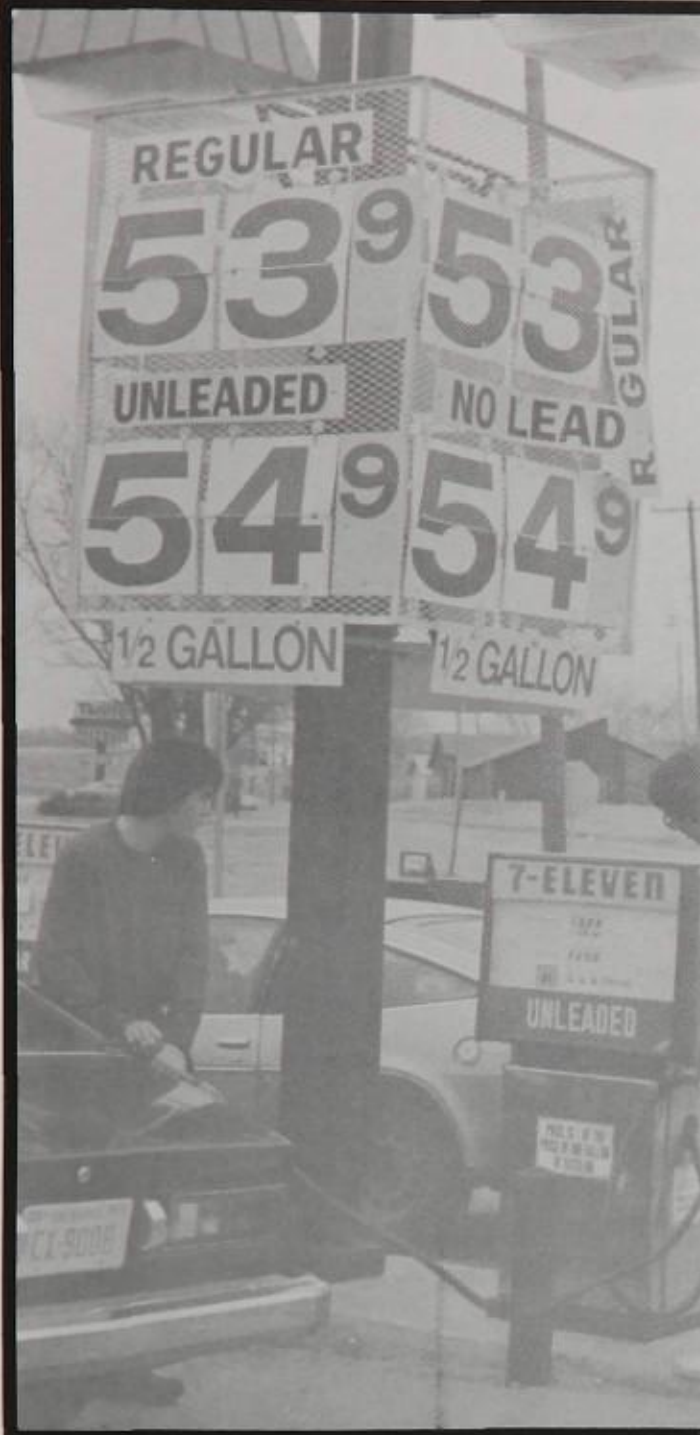

This was how Mitch Shadid "got around."

The group of students who took a tour of Europe last summer, visited Windsor Castle.

"Cruising Costs"

I hate to sound sadistic and put down one of the pastimes that unites the youth of America, yours truly included, but what is the purpose of "Cruising"?

This story came to me last Saturday night, as I travelled up and down Air Depot with my usual carload. A fast car pulled up beside me and a few looks were exchanged. The light turned green and as I stomped down on the accelerator, my speedometer zoomed upward, but then I noticed my gas gauge was whizzing downward. Now days there's no doubt about it, Cruising can hurt the financial stability of a teenager's economic situation. In other words, it takes money to cruise.

Now I can understand going and parking and having some fun at McDonalds or Sonic, but going up and down Main gets a little boring. That goes for 39th, 59th, and Air Depot too. Sure a race every few laps helps, but as you make your third or fourth lap you have to wonder if the casual race or the brief meeting of eyes between you and girl in the Trans Am is worth it.

Of course there's always a chance of stopping and meeting someone from another school. We'll probably talk about each other's football team and ask them if they know so and so who went there once. If it's a girl she's almost a sure bet to have either feathered hair or a frizz left over from last year's spree of permanents. Also she'll probably have tight fitting straight leg Levis and little wood shoes with the leather strap across the top. If it's a guy, more than likely he'll have hair parted in the middle and feathered back. He'll be wearing a black T-shirt from some recent concert.

However, there's always a few people who can't stop cruising no matter how old they get.

But Cruising still seems to be one of the main pasttimes of the teenager today. So keep the cruising going and I'll probably see you on Main Friday night.

Traci Taylor jogged ...

Tonia Smarra slid ...

Kelly Smith rode a bus.

Flicks & Discs

A favorite pastime for most teenagers was listening to albums and going to movies at night. With the rising cost of albums and movies, recreation in this sense was somewhat limited.

In the radio category, it was the year of FM. Most students at YHS selected 96X as their favorite radio station. KOFM came in second while the KATT came in a close third.

Some of the top albums of the year were: "Breakfast in America" by Supertramp, "In Through the Out Door" by Led Zeppelin, "The Wall" by Pink Floyd, "Cornerstone" by Styx and "The Long Run" by the Eagles. Although it was an oldie but goodie, Bob Seger's "Live Bullet" was listened to quite a bit.

Looking into the movies, several of the favorites were: Electric Horseman, Kramer vs. Kramer, Apocalypse Now and The Rose.

While some of us like to just sit back and relax by our stereo, others enjoyed going to concerts. But whether we listened to the radio, played a guitar or watched t.v., music and movies were a big part of our way of life.

Listening to the stereo and looking at annuals was relaxing for Larry Wright.

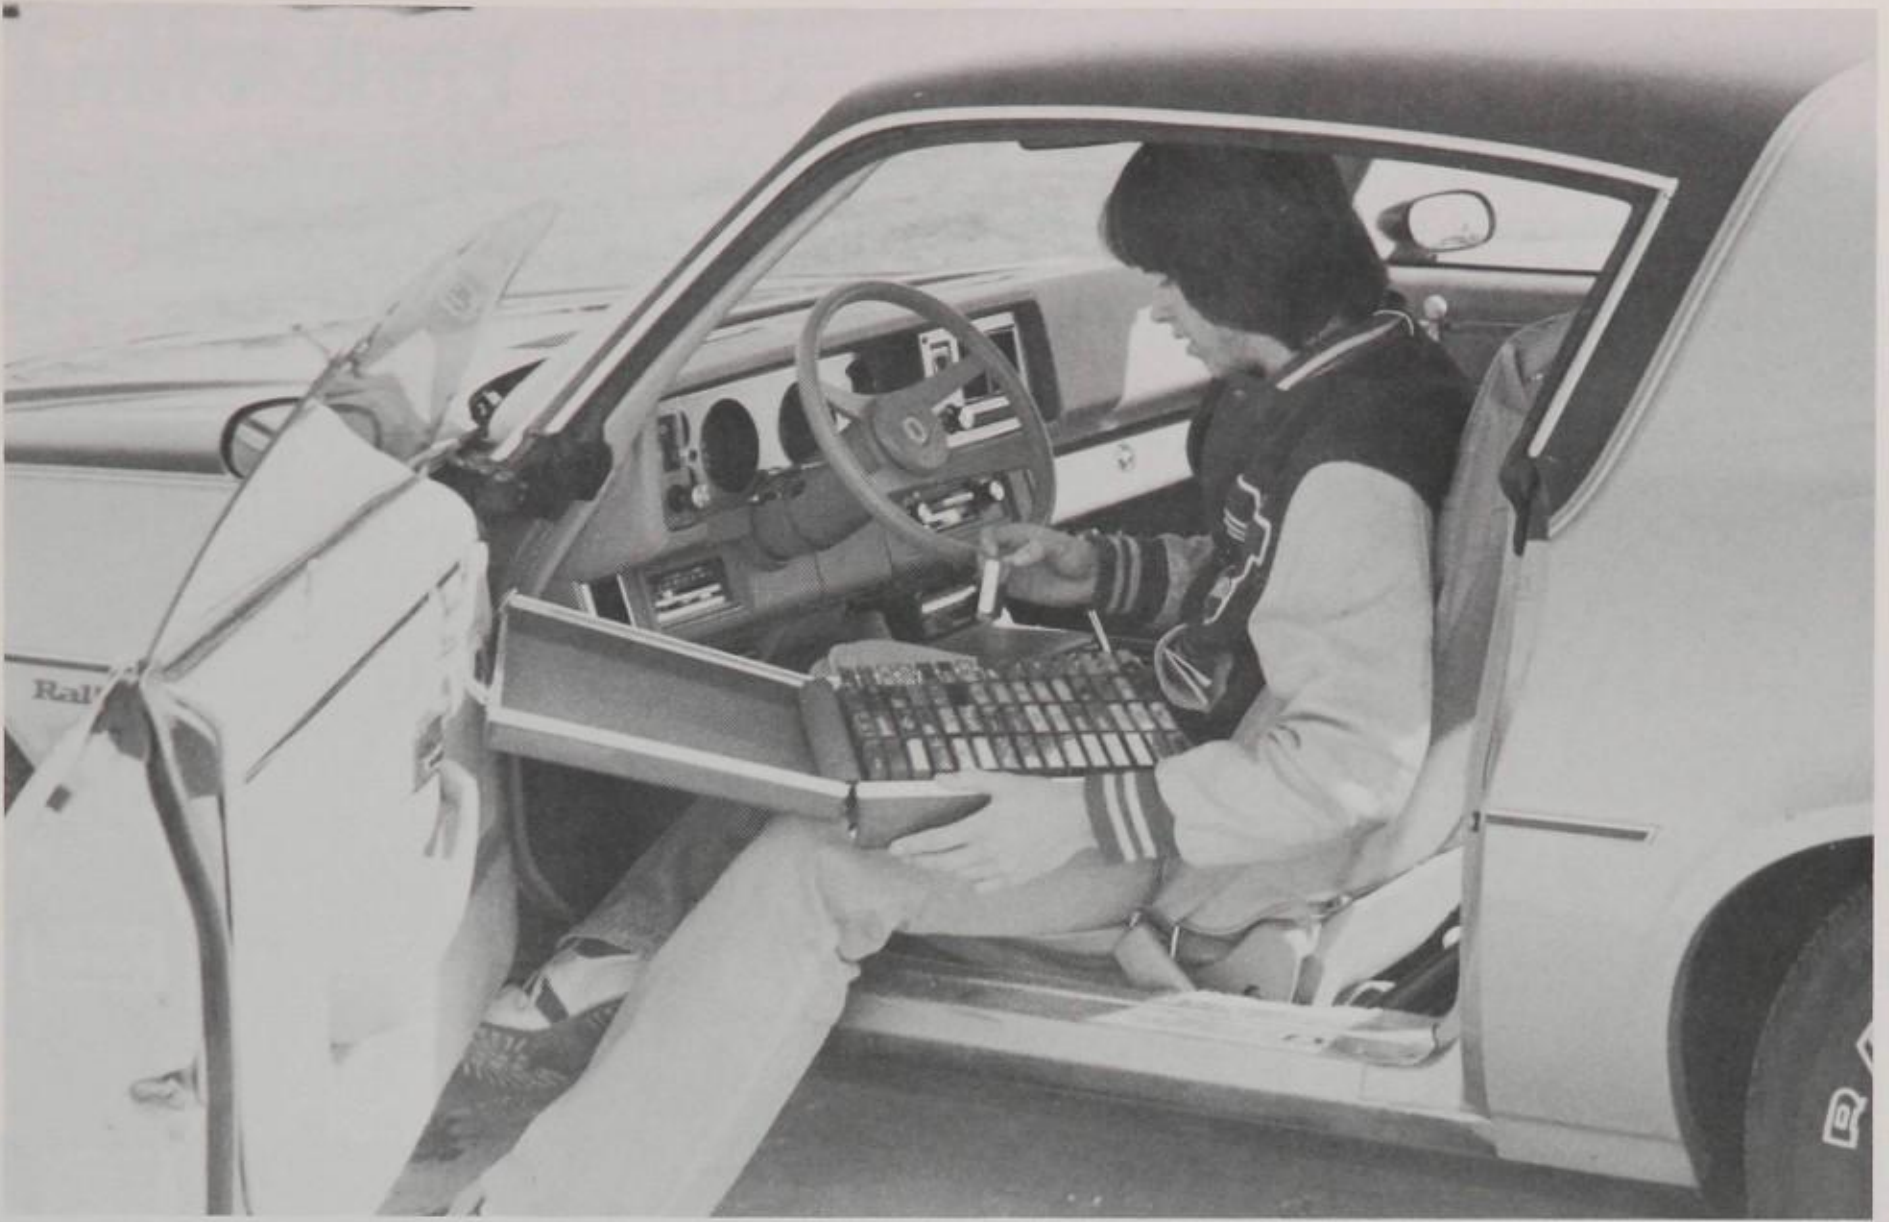

Brian Banks and Brenda Parker wait in line for movie tickets.

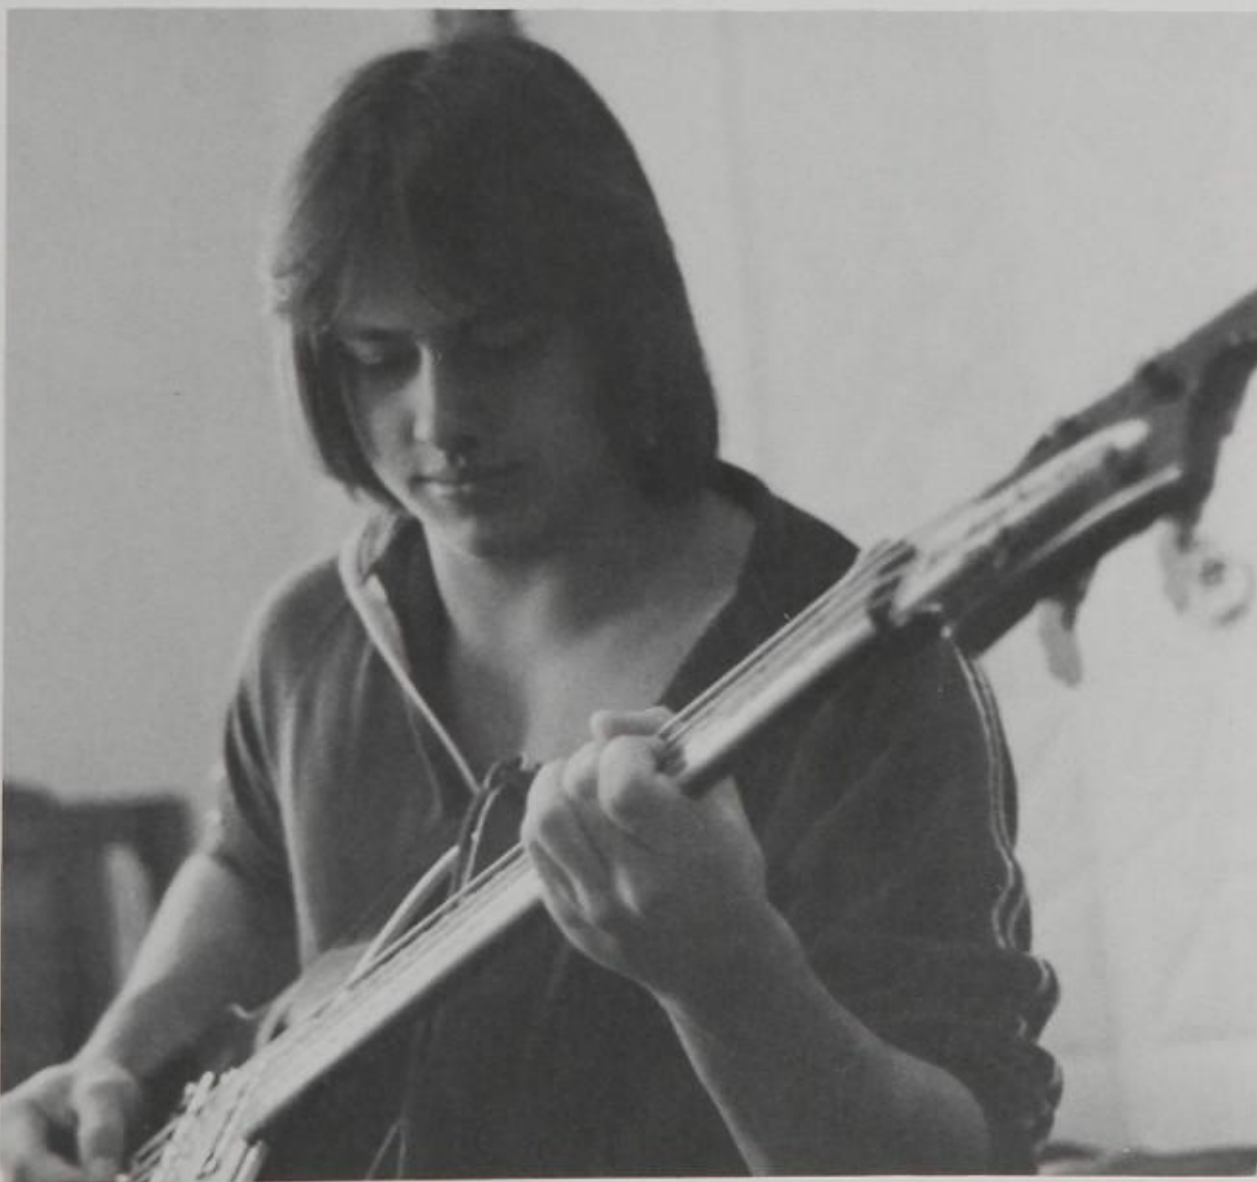

LuAnna Urton and Kim Whited check out the albums at Wal-Mart.

"Which one do I want to hear?" Brad Kerner seems to be deep in thought.

Steve Tillman enjoyed sitting in his room and jamming on his bass guitar.

Jimmy Buffett was just one of the many concerts that came through OKC.

Crazy Little Thing

A popular sport most of the students participated in was dating. The competition and "hunting" might have been hard, but the catch was well worth it.

If one was not actually on a date, they were usually cruising or partying to find possible prospects. Common places to talk were McDonalds, Sonic, and Snyders' parking lot.

Those who did have dates usually went to a movie, out to eat or over to each other's houses.

Walking down the halls it was easy to tell those couples that were "going together"; they had their own place (lockers, broom closets, and cars). Mr. LoBaugh said "It seemed that some of these kids were grown together at the hands" Even though PDA (Public Display of Affection) was outlawed by the principals, many couples found ways to get around it.

In general, dating and "hunting" provided hours of entertainment and priceless memories of our care-free high school days.

Kim Williams stopped for a chat with Jeff Huston and David Bonner. Many girls and guys met each other and compared cars this way. Cruising provided pastime for many people.

An "unidentified" couple caught parking.

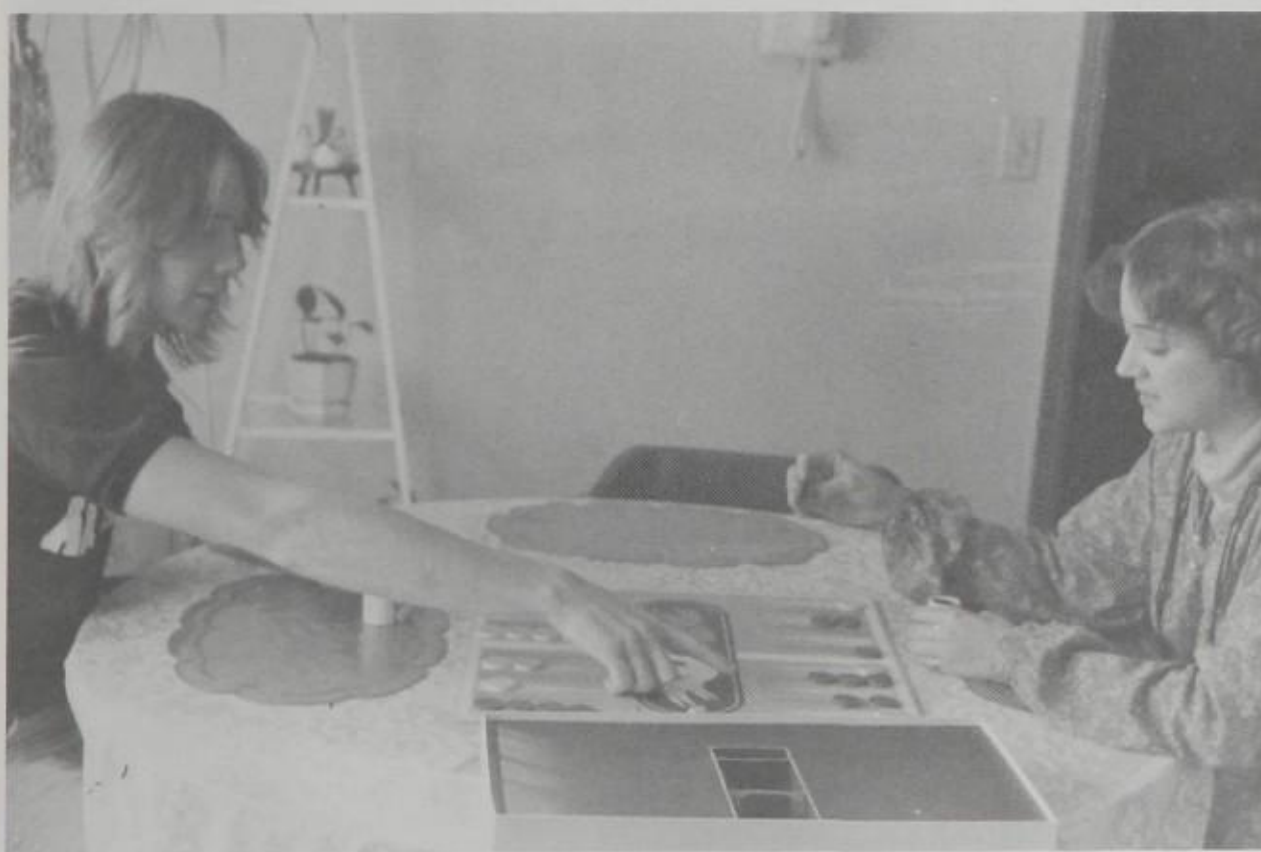

Roy Farrow and Liz Rukes had a good time eating out at the Yukon Mining Company.

Called Love . . .

John Holmes, Cheryl Murry, Ron Sterling and Pam Murry enjoyed a double date at the Twilite Bowling Alley. Other couples found various ways to occupy their time.

Friends also got together, such as Brian Hill and Rhonda Hill did, to play backgammon.

Memorabilia was often kept from dates.

Going In Style

"What should I wear today?" This is a typical question many girls, as well as guys, ask themselves every morning. Just as everything else changes, so do fashions.

With the western cut and popular right designer jeans still around, a new look in jeans has emerged for the fashion-conscious public; It's called the "baggy".

Looking around the corner in the skirt department, straight skirts with splits worn with blazers were the look for fall. Colored socks and textured hose were often seen with skirts during the winter and hot pinks, sky blue, and vivid yellow cottons were the look for spring and summer.

Cowboy boots with riding heels, ballet shoes and wooden clogs were often seen walking the halls as well as topsiders, Bass', and the ever popular tennis shoes.

It was a year of imagination and almost every combination of colors went, no matter how far out.

Yukon may not be as fashionable as New York or as chic as California, but we have our own flair that makes us unique.

These shoes were made for walking. Different types of shoes were seen walking the halls.

Cindy Prafka, Renea Music, Shelly Webb show off their glasses, braces, and double pierced ears.

Labels were fashionable, many people wanted to be seen with somebody's name on their pants.

Heidi Eifler, Dave Harper, Debi Richard, Bob Howard, and Mark Tate step out in the styles of coats for winter.

Anita Privett and Don Ott step into spring in light weight rain slickers and jeans.

Carrie Lorance and Brett McMurphy show off their summer fashions in the "Bahamas".

Getting the finer points of Physics are Dana Seelinger and Doug Perryman in their fall fashions.

Gregg Dobbins and Dorenia Moyer are ready for winter with the fashions of sweaters and skirts.

Some Things

David Bonner hurries to get the most of the 25 minute lunch hour.

Officer Shelton stops Gwen Chilcote for speeding in a school zone.

Do to a school board ordinance, the prom must be held in Yukon. Check your preference:

☐ School gym    ☐ Community center    ☐ Moose lodge

This ballot was handed out in February to choose the place for the prom.

Never Change

This was a familiar scene in the over-crowded parking lot.

Steve Hoehner struggles over a scraped up speed bump.

These guys seem to have their favorite corner staked out.

Even though there were many changes at Yukon High School this year, some things remained the same. Through all of the students complaining, the lunch time remained 30 minutes and through all the faculty's complaining, the students continued to park on the grass and in the lanes.

Walking down the halls you could hear the familiar mumbling about homework and teachers or speeding tickets and policemen. That is, if you could get passed the jocks and various cliques that congregate on every free corner. It seemed as if everyone had their set place.

Another thing that didn't change was the school dances must be held within Yukon's city limits.

But maybe things helped us to mature and accept the things we can't change.

Even new students experienced the old familiar homework problem.

What A Difference A Year Makes

We don't realize what a difference just one year can make until we start looking back. We made new friends and experienced new things. We all have grown and changed in our thoughts and feelings.

For many of the seniors, graduation is a happy occasion. But for others, it will be the last time to reminisce with friends. Our efforts and hard work finally paid off when we received our diplomas. As for the juniors, they have only one more year to prepare for the future.

Whichever road we choose, we will see how much influence one year can have and finally realize the importance of our school years and friends.

Yukon saw the introduction of 10 new teachers to its faculty.

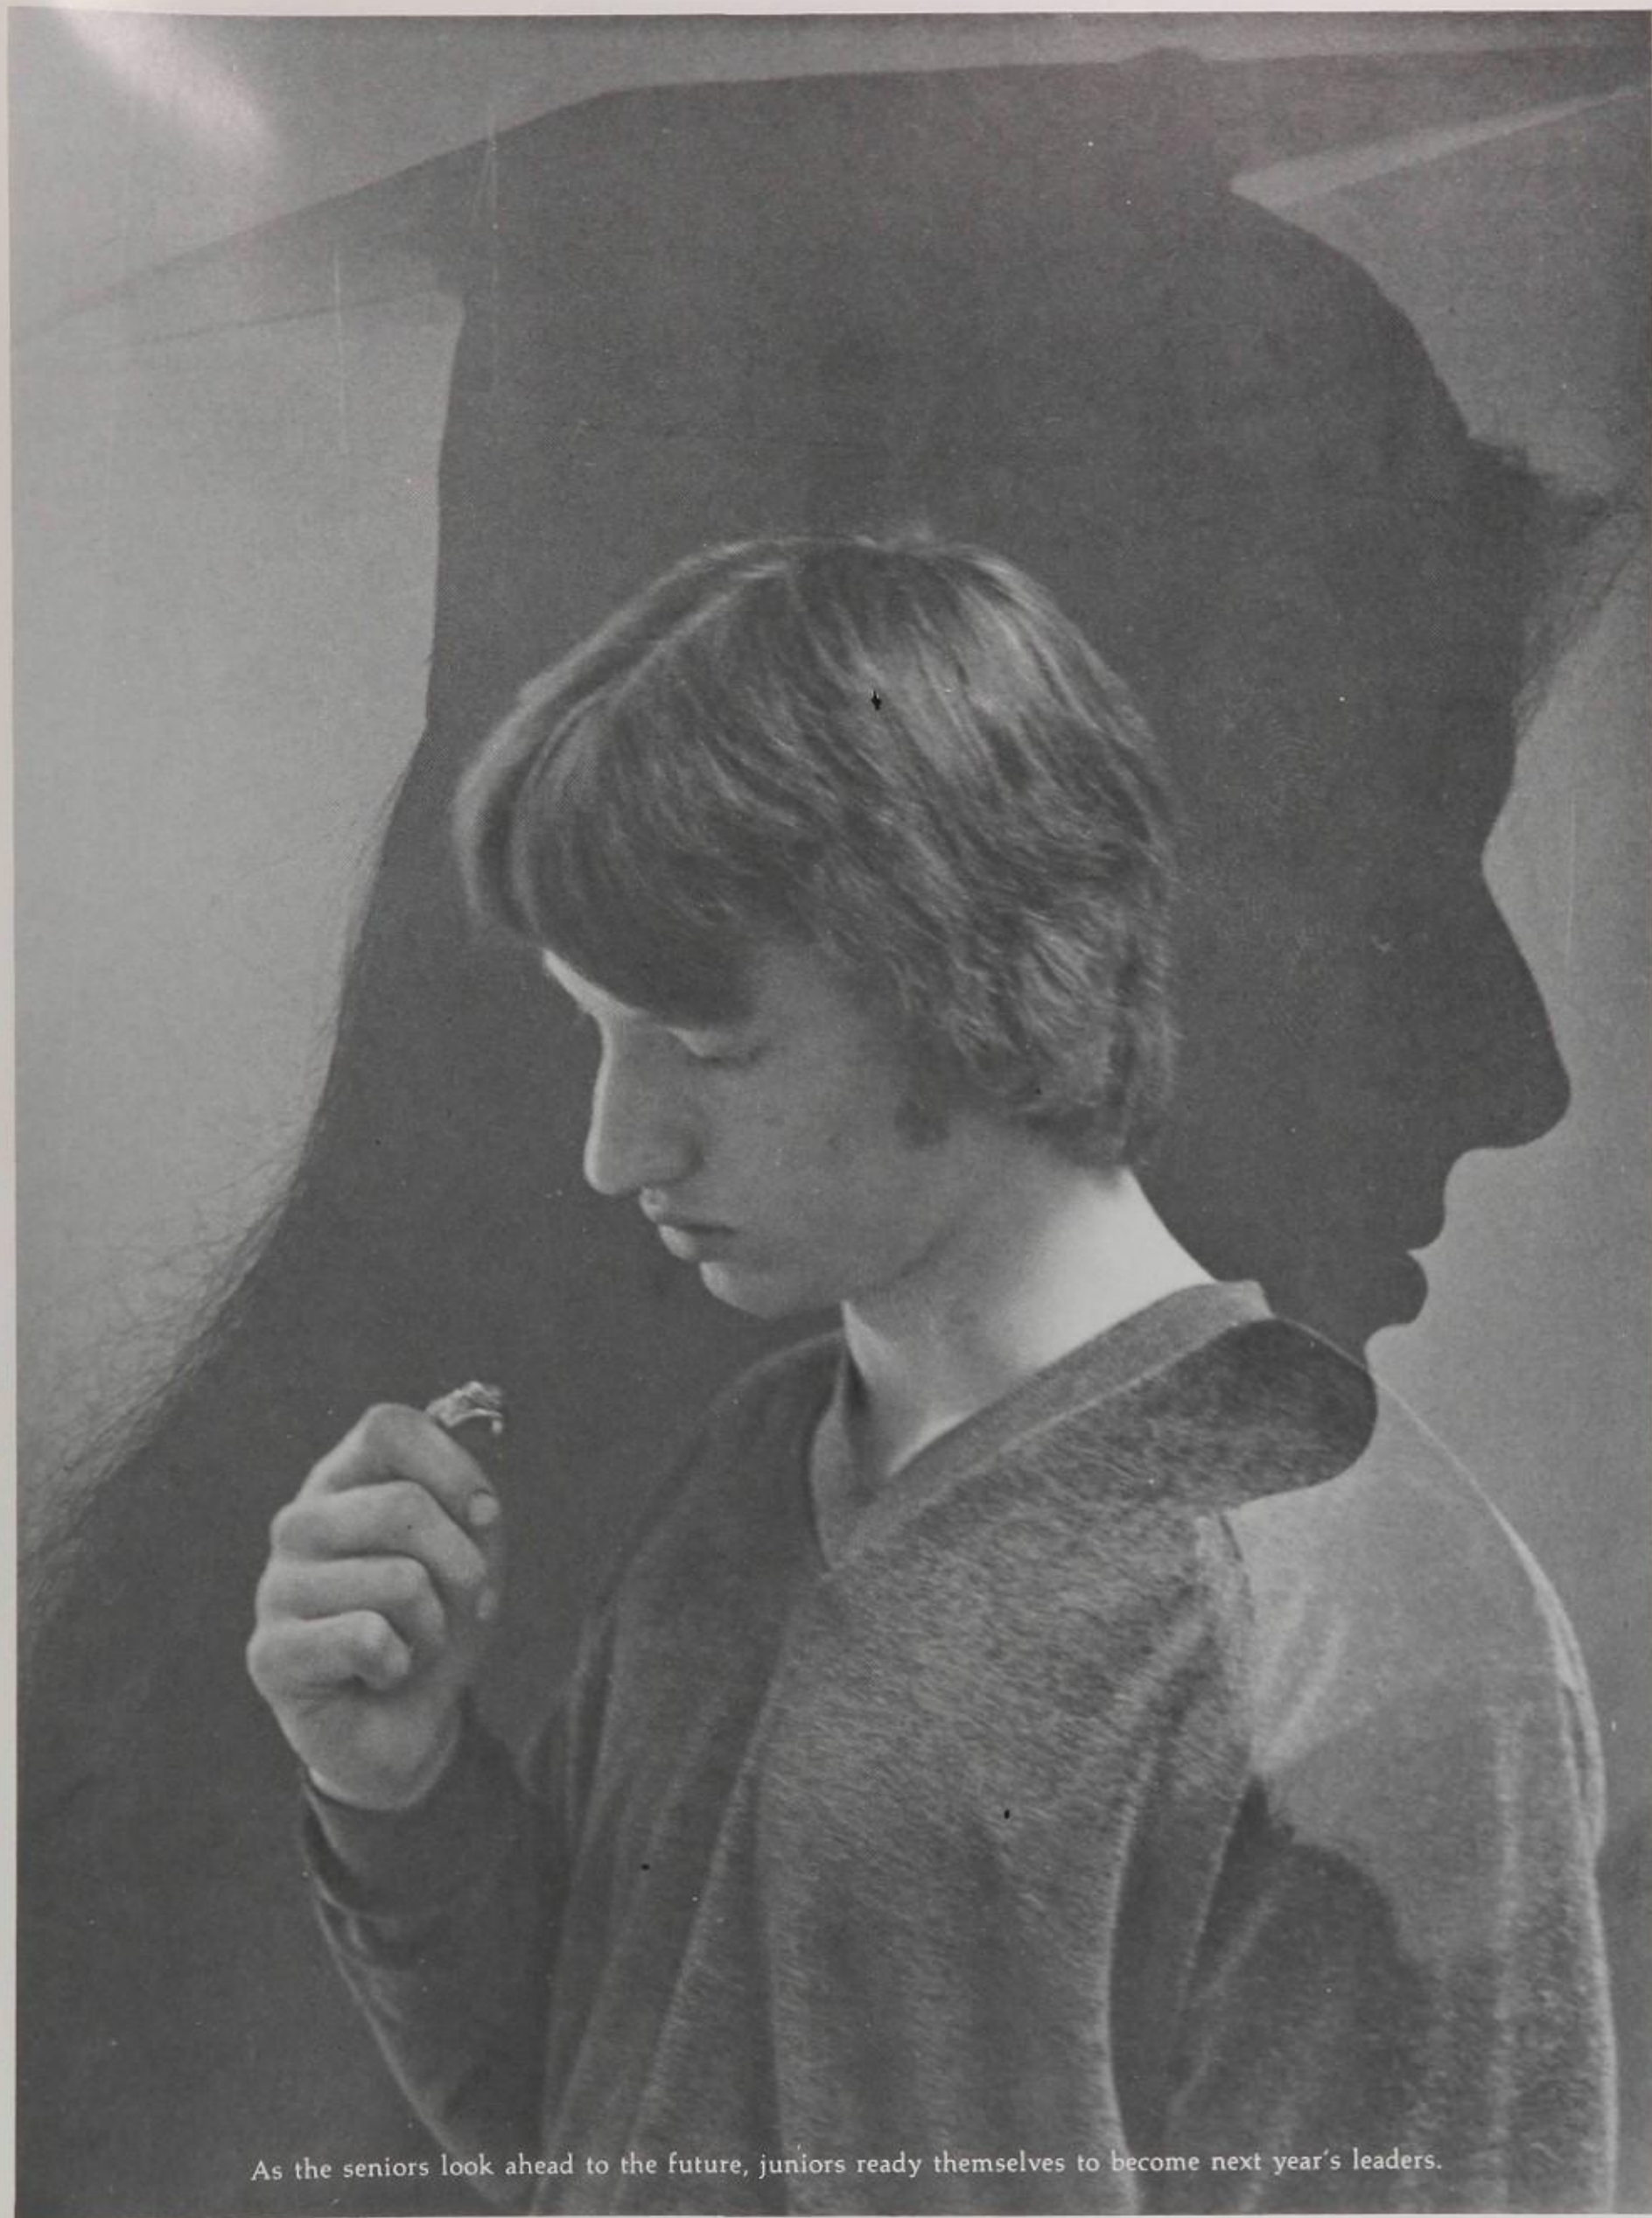

Heidi Eifler enjoys the new salad bar.

One of Mr. Callum's new policies was that teachers must sit with their classes during all school assemblies and classes must enter by schedule and hall position.

As the seniors look ahead to the future, juniors ready themselves to become next year's leaders.

COLOPHON

The 1980 Yukon Miller was published by the Yukon High School yearbook class and printed by Josten's American Yearbook Company, Topeka, Kansas. It is printed on 80 pound dull enamel paper. Body type is 10 point Oracle, captions are 8 point; Most headlines are 24 point or 35 point Oracles.

The Ayers sisters, Tracey and Lezlie, work together on their layouts.

A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO SUMMER VACATION

"Foot prints in the sand"! Bahf! Bahf! Bahf!"

"Oh my heavens, what am I doing here? Look, he's up on the table kissing a yearbook!"

"Wait a minute; inner margins? flush right? What's this?"

"We are all dummies, no one is smarter. We will all learn together."

"Learn?! No one said anything about learning or work."

Imagine this scene re-enacted in 100 minds as young journalists flocked to Oklahoma University for Summer Workshop. When the bulletin said it emphasized the "work" and not the "shop", it was no joke. Students spent approximately 9½ hours in lectures and laboratory daily. This was also supplemented by "homework" for those who took the deadlines seriously.

The workshop began June 4 and ended June 7. In this short time students learned how to develop a theme, arrange a yearbook, write body copy, and captions, divide sections, invent interesting headlines, and crop pictures. In the words of Col. Savedge, "I'm going to turn your heads from a pile of mush into a working, thinking machine." And boy were some heads turned!

The dynamic speakers were full of fact as well as fun. Their wit set the pace for a perfect learning and sharing environment. The students left determined to produce the best yearbooks ever.

One of the biggest parts of summer workshop was lectures. Here Gwen Chilcote takes notes.

We have seen a lot of changes throughout the past year. Here at school we have a new football stadium and locker rooms, trophy case, salad bar, and the start of an auditorium. Nationally, gas prices have soared to over a dollar, and the crisis in Iran and Afghanistan have been in the headlines worldwide. But the biggest difference is in the classes. Going from juniors to seniors and seniors to graduates is one of the biggest changes we'll go through. But where do we go from here? Some will start careers, and some will further their education. But, wherever you go from here, we hope you will enjoy this book to help you recall what a difference Yukon High School has made in your life.

As the sun rises on Main Street, the merchants of Yukon start their busy day.

ADVERTISING

Terri Casto, homecoming queen and Snyder's employee, smiles at the crowd as she passes Yukon businesses in the Czech Parade.

Many new businesses have come to Yukon because of our growing population. Some of the businesses are: Parties Etc., Sharon's, Kinney's, Taco Mayo, and Winn Dixie. Many of the old businesses have made new renovations and even some have moved to new buildings. Yukon is growing and expanding each year and because of this, new merchants are contributing to our town and its future. The difference between now and past years is staggering as far as our community livelihood is concerned. We are doing away with the term "bedroom community" and are building a community where everyone can work and live together.

Definition of a Good Yearbook

A good yearbook appeals to the majority of the students for whom it is designed.

Appeal of a Good Yearbook

Appeal is determined by:

The number of times a purchaser's name and picture appears.

The completeness and accuracy with which events, activities and organizations are recorded.

The purchaser's esthetic reaction to all aspects of the book, including color, cover design, theme and photography.

The physical condition and timely delivery of the book.

Success of a Good Yearbook

Success is measured by:

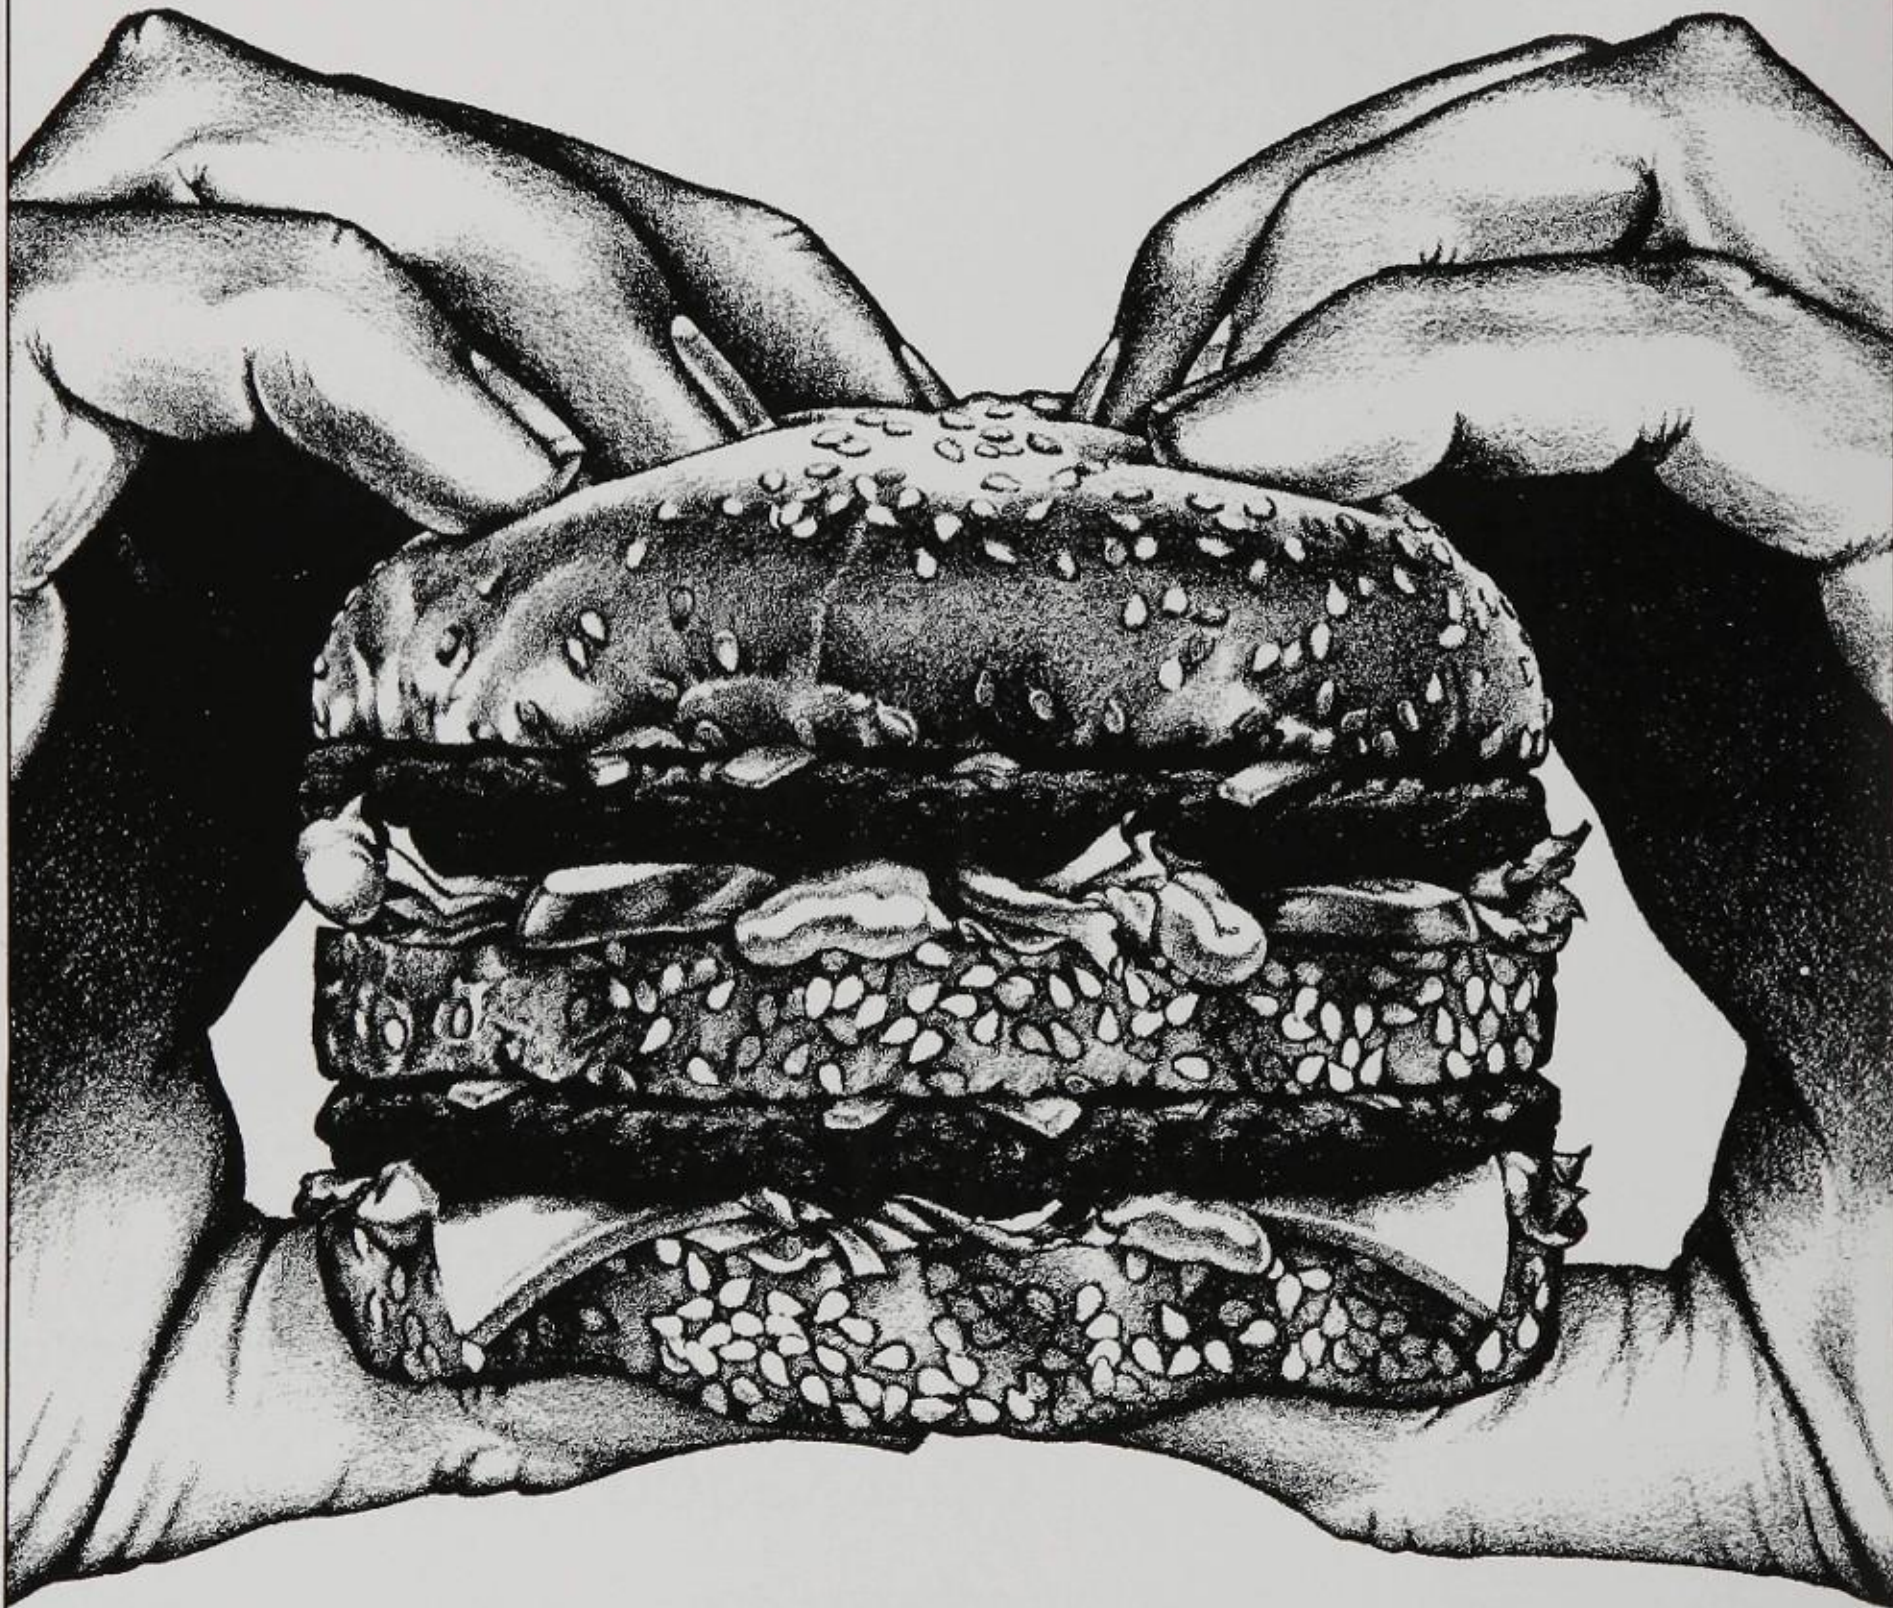

The percentage of students who buy.

The degree to which these student buyers accept the book.
